Pompidou's Ouster Confuses Political Picture For France

Only Gradual Influx Looms For Housing

Authorities Fail To See Any Major Negro Movement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Housing experts anticipate only gradual movement of Negroes into white neighborhoods as a result of a recent Supreme Court decision and passage of the federal open housing law.

"Our best guess is that there's going to be no huge, massive influx" of Negroes into white areas, said an authoritative source at the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The source said the main reason is that most Negroes simply can't afford to move into most white areas.

Eugene P. Conser, executive vice president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, agreed and added that moving is costly and "it takes time for people to find a different location. It's a great inconvenience for people to move."

The open housing provisions contained in the 1968 Civil Rights Act, passed in May, rule out discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion or national origin. It goes into effect in three stages and will cover 80 per cent of the nation's housing by 1970.

The Supreme Court decision, issued June 17, holds that an 1866 civil rights law prohibits all racial discrimination in sale or rental of housing.

It goes beyond the new law, whose one major exemption would have permitted discrimination by an owner of his own home who sells or rents it without the aid of a broker.

Housing Secretary Robert C. Weaver said the administration's new housing bill, pending in Congress, will add considerably to the supply of integrated housing within reach of Negroes in low and moderate income levels. He said some of the new housing units will be dispersed in white or predominately white neighborhoods.

New 'Air Filter' Law Invoked For 1st Time

A new ordinance requiring all autos to be equipped with air filters or air cleaners on the carburetors was invoked for the first time today in Municipal Court, leading to a fine of $15 and $7.50 costs for the defendant.

Kenneth Brinkley of 1196 Pennsylvania Ave. was named in the affidavit signed by Fire Chief Alfred J. VanDyne, alleging he operated an auto Monday without the carburetor device. The chief said the lack of an air filter was discovered when firemen were called to quell a blaze in the motor of Brinkley's auto.

Council enacted the ordinance about six months ago at the chief's request.

Joint Economic Program

Old Idea Revived For Peace Talks

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador W. Averell Harriman today sought to revive the three-year-old idea of American support for a Southeast Asian economic development program in which North Vietnam would participate if peace can be achieved.

Harriman as he began another meeting with North Vietnamese Ambassador Xuan Thuy recalled that President Johnson had pledged U.S. financing for a development program in a speech at John Hopkins University in April 1965.

Peace Plea Set

"We are going to make a strong plea for peace for the people of Southeast Asia," he said, "analyzing what could be done if the countries of Southeast Asia worked together as the President suggested. . . in a cooperative plan inviting North Vietnam to take part."

But he added that social and economic progress can only be achieved under peaceful conditions.

Harriman also said the U.S. government has "always been very glad to encourage any talks between Hanoi and Saigon that will lead to peace." That was his response to a newsman's question when asked about a new call for direct talks issued here Tuesday by Ambassador Bui Diem, South Vietnam's observer for the Paris talks.

"North Vietnam," Harriman said, "must learn to live with its neighbors not in fear but in peace."

12th Session

The meeting today was the 12th round in the deadlocked Paris discussions of how to de-escalate the war in Vietnam.

In each of the previous sessions, which began May 13, Thuy has demanded that the United States end all remaining attacks on his country. Harriman has demanded some display of "restraint" by North Vietnam, preferably reduction of its infiltration of troops into South Vietnam. Thuy has rejected such "reciprocity," contending that the United States is guilty of aggression against North Vietnam.

North Vietnam's position was repeated Tuesday by Nguyen Viet Dung, Hanoi's ambassador in East Berlin, who told a news conference in Copenhagen: "There can be no talk of any reciprocity as the U.S.A. and her vassals clearly are the aggressors."

Since the 11th meeting last Wednesday, Harriman and Thuy have conferred separately with U.N. Secretary-General U Thant. But there has been no suggestion that either of the negotiators gave Thant any reason to hope for an early break in the stalemate.

Ambassador Bui Diem, South Vietnam's observer for the talks, accused North Vietnam Tuesday of "systematically avoiding any discussion of the conditions under which the bombing would end, thus rejecting the rules of the game that they themselves chose and approved by coming to Paris."

He said North Vietnam should stop infiltration into the South and end "the aggression that is the very cause of the conflict." He also renewed a South Vietnamese proposal for "direct conversations. . . between North and South" to resolve the political issues underlying the war.

A North Vietnamese spokesman said his government will not have direct dealings with the Saigon regime because it is a "puppet" of the United States.

Steering Group Meets

Pottery Festival Called 'Success,' Set For 1969

Termed a "surprising success," the Tri-State Pottery Festival was scheduled for the third week of June 1969 by the festival committee Tuesday night during a dinner meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

The committee, which heard reports and evaluations, also made plans for the incorporation of the festival as a non-profit organization under Ohio charter.

H. Jud English, chairman, presided at the session attended by 15.

Bills amounting to $464 for such items as liability insurance, trophies, prizes, electrical service, advertising, a shuttle bus operation and other expenses were authorized.

It was estimated some $1,700 was cleared on the sale of souvenirs, programs, booth space, but other bills are expected.

THE COMMITTEE agreed to stage the festival June 19-21 next year. It also agreed to continue the present officers until incorporation papers are presented and new officers and trustees designated. English estimated the proceedings can be undertaken in about a month.

Despite some problems, the first annual fete was described as well received throughout the district, with an expanded program expected next year.

Jack Hill, chairman of the Jaycee-sponsored booths and "mall," said 17 booths were erected, and about $171 cleared from rentals of $15 each. Guards, cleaning and special permits were among expenses. He said he expected many more organizations to sponsor booths next year.

Mrs. James Locke reported on the sales of souvenir plates, ash trays and coffee mugs by the Quota Club. She said all the

Silver Dollars Pose Problem For Treasury

Various Programs Are Suggested For Disposal Of Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stashed away in a sealed vault in the basement of the Treasury Department is one of the most unusual problems ever faced by the nation's money men—what to do with three million silver dollars.

The Treasury has wrestled with the problem since 1964 when it stopped feeding silver dollars into circulation because all the remaining ones were worth much more than $1 as collectors items.

One Treasury official estimated the value in the coin collectors market at roughly $75 million.

The Joint Commission on the Coinage—the group of Treasury officials, members of Congress and private citizens who periodically review coinage policy—plans to discuss the silver dollar headache in detail at its next meeting Monday.

But some officials don't look for a quick solution. The commission has discussed the problem on and off since its first meeting in May, 1967.

It now has before it, however, the first hard suggestion from a Treasury official.

Robert A. Wallace, assistant secretary of the Treasury, has suggested sale of the silver dollars by the department at the collector-market value.

More than 2.8 million of the dollars now in Treasury hands were made at the Carson City, Nev., mint in the late 1880s. No silver dollars have been minted since 1935 and there are no plans at this time to mint any more.

Place the dollars in circulation and they will just disappear in the hands of coin collectors and the country won't get what the coins are really worth, the Treasury reasons.

Congress in 1966 considered bills to permit the Treasury to sell the coins for $1 each to the heart and cancer societies which in turn would sell them to coin collectors and dealers at a profit.

But the Treasury contended such a plan discriminated against other groups just as worthy and insisted any profits should go to the public, not to a private group.

The silver in the coins is now worth much more than their face value because of the sharp jump in the price of silver to more than $2 an ounce the past year.

Peoples Natural Gas Seeks Rate Increase

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 7.4 per cent rate increase is needed to offset increasing operating costs for Peoples Natural Gas Co., its president says.

Stewart E. McMurray made the statement Tuesday at a Public Utility Commission hearing.

The proposed increase would affect rates for about 288,000 residential, commercial and industrial consumers in 16 Western Pennsylvania counties.

Delay Seen On Nuclear Pact Action

Passage By Senate Expected To Come With Next Session

By ROBERT T. GRAY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons, on which President Johnson has urged swift action, appears certain of Senate passage but possibly not in this session.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says the timing of a floor vote depends on how soon the Senate Foreign Relations Committee winds up its hearings, which opened today with Secretary of State Dean Rusk the first scheduled witness.

"We'll see what develops," Mansfield said Tuesday, shortly before Johnson's urgent recommendation "that the Senate move swiftly" on the treaty.

Mansfield, noting the congressional adjournment target of Aug. 3, said "time isn't a factor" on the treaty, which must be ratified by 43 nations before it can take effect.

The three major nuclear powers—the United States, the Soviet Union and Great Britain—must be among the 43 and it is expected to be several months before all ratify.

A total of 60 nations have signed the agreement, subject to approval by their respective legislative bodies.

It was signed for this country July 1. At the same time, Johnson announced that the Soviet Union had agreed to begin talks with this country on limiting offensive and defense nuclear weapons.

"Thus there is hope that this treaty will mark the beginning of a new phase in the quest for order and moderation in international affairs," Johnson said in asking the Senate to approve it.

Bomb Blast Rips Offices Of Missions

NEW YORK (AP) — A bomb explosion shattered windows in the Yugoslav and Cuban missions to the United Nations today but apparently caused no injuries.

The blast was the sixth to damage a foreign office in the city since April 22 and occurred despite beefed-up guards at consular and diplomatic agencies throughout the city.

Fire officials described the device which went off shortly after 1 a.m. as "a bomb of fairly heavy size." It exploded on the fourth floor fire escape of a residence on East 67th Street.

The residence, two missions and four other buildings which share a common courtyard off Fifth Avenue suffered damage in the blast. Part of the bomb broke through the fire escape and dug a crater two feet wide and eight inches deep, firemen said.

Cool Front Expected Late This Afternoon

The weatherman said a cool front which passed through northern Ohio early this morning is expected to reach the Ohio River by late afternoon, accompanied by a few thundershowers.

As skies clear tonight, temperatures are due to drop into the 50s.

Sunny, mild weather is expected Thursday.

Temperatures will average near normal through Monday, with highs in the low 80s and lows in the 60s.

Viet Cong Force Pulls Back After Saigon Approach

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese troops intercepted another Viet Cong force approaching Saigon today, and U.S. pilots reported shooting down a MIG17 in a brief dogfight over North Vietnam.

A force of about 200 guerrillas, moving toward Saigon in the darkness early today, ran into two companies of government troops, part of the big allied defense ring against a threatened new enemy offensive on the capital.

There were some government casualties in the confused fighting on the marshy plains five miles west of Saigon. But the Viet Cong force pulled back and vanished in the tangled waste land on the eastern approach to the city.

Allied blocking forces had reported killing 37 guerrillas in three skirmishes Monday and Tuesday within 28 miles of the South Vietnamese capital. And the U.S. Navy reported its river patrol boats and helicopters destroyed three sampans moving enemy rocket launchers toward the capital.

With a new major attack on Saigon expected before the end of the month, U.S. B52 bombers flew six new missions Tuesday night and today against enemy jungle infiltration routes, supply points and camps 25 to 65 miles from the city.

In North Vietnam, enemy MIGs appeared about 11 miles southwest of Vinh Tuesday as U.S. warplanes made heavy raids against supply lines in the panhandle region.

Lt. Cmdr. John Nichols of San Diego, Calif., said he caught one MIG17 with a volley of cannon and missile fire from his Crusader jet. As Nichols broke off from his last firing pass, his wingman said the MIG smashed into the ground and exploded.

It was the 107th MIG claimed shot down in the war, while the United States has lost 47 warplanes in dogfights. The MIGs have challenged American fighter-bombers only a few times since President Johnson put the area of North Vietnam above the 19th parallel off limits to U.S. air attack three months ago.

Senate Studying Gun Registration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders of both parties say they want a gun control bill to include the registration and licensing of all firearms, regardless of what the House does.

Both President Johnson and Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., have proposed bills requiring that all guns in the country be registered and their owners licensed. These measures were before the Senate judiciary Committee today with a Tydings spokesman rating the outcome a toss up.

"We have to face up to our responsibilities," Majority Leader Mike Mansfield said. "We shouldn't tell the House what to do, nor should the House tell us what to do."

Both Mansfield and Republican Leader Sen. Everett M. Dirksen said they favor Tydings' bill. Dirksen, in echoing his Democratic counterpart's sentiments on independent action said any difference with the House could be settled in a conference committee.

The House Rules Committee Tuesday cleared for floor action a bill to prohibit the interstate mail-order sale of shotguns and rifles.

Before doing so, the committee won a promise from Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, to oppose any effort to add on registration and licensing provisions.

Tydings' bill is similar to President Johnson's proposal, the difference being Tydings' bill would require federal registration and licensing only in states that fail to enact substantially equivalent legislation.

The administration bill provides for federal registration of firearms but the licensing of gun owners would be left to the states if they pass legislation meeting federal standards.

Close Kept Secret

Humphrey Aide Denies Anyone Selected 'Veep'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey has not offered the vice presidential spot on his Democratic presidential ticket to anyone and isn't even telling his closest associates whom he wants, say sources close to the vice president.

These sources list a dozen possibilities, including governors, senators, former governors and an ambassador.

One name mentioned is that of Humphrey's principal rival for the Democratic nomination, Minnesota Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

The name of Massachusetts Sen. Edward M. Kennedy gets passing mention in talks with sources close to Humphrey.

After the assassination of Kennedy's brother, Robert, then a leading contender for the nomination, some commentators and pollsters saw Edward Kennedy as the strongest choice Humphrey could make.

Humphrey himself vividly recalls the anxious weeks he went through in 1964 before being tapped by President Johnson to be his running mate.

Johnson was unopposed for the presidential nomination and waited dramatically until the Democratic National Convention was under way in Atlantic City, N.J., before summoning Humphrey, then Senate majority whip, and Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., to Washington. On leaving Washington for Atlantic City a few hours later, Johnson disclosed that Humphrey was his choice.

Explanation Not Offered For 'Break'

Couve De Murville Chosen To Replace Present Premier

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle has dramatically rearranged France's political picture again by choosing Maurice Couve de Murville to replace Premier Georges Pompidou, and the public is left wondering what it's all about.

Only six weeks ago, De Gaulle lauded Pompidou and said there was no thought of replacing him.

The premier was touted as De Gaulle's successor, and there was speculation that the president might retire early.

Many experienced observers now feel that De Gaulle, in changing his chief political aide, is giving notice he intends to serve out his seven-year term, which expires in 1972.

What caused the break between Pompidou and De Gaulle? Neither has explained, and it is most unlikely that either will.

However, reliable sources have reported that Pompidou is not in favor of De Gaulle's plans for worker participation in the management councils of industry.

Published reports—never confirmed, never denied and never officially noticed—also have said that Pompidou criticized De Gaulle's handling of the student-worker strikes upheaval in May and even suggested De Gaulle should resign.

Pompidou was widely praised for his handling of the May crisis. He was about the only political leader who came out of the upheaval with his reputation enhanced.

He has long preached a need to fight the Communists on the home political front, and De Gaulle adopted this rallying cry for the National Assembly elections last month. Pompidou was the general manager for the campaign that gave the Gaullists the greatest majority ever worn by one party in modern French history.

Even the most astute political reporters were incredulous when reports first circulated that Pompidou might be leaving the premier's office. He seemed invulnerable in view of his record. Then there was speculation that he was stepping out in preparation for taking the presidency.

De Gaulle loves to keep the real motives of his political moves a mystery. He may yet come up with a new switch to make Pompidou his crown prince again.

Spock Given Jail Term In Draft Case

BOSTON (AP)—Dr. Benjamin Spock was sentenced today to two years in prison and ordered to pay a $5,000 fine for conspiracy to aid, abet and counsel young men to avoid the draft.

His three codefendants also received two-year prison sentences, but were ordered to pay varied fines.

U.S. Dist. Judge Francis J. W. Ford granted stays of execution for all the sentences, pending appeals to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, and continued the defendants' $1,000 bonds.

Convicted with the 65-year-old pediatrician were Yale Chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43, fined $5,000; Michael Ferber, 23, a Harvard graduate student, $1,000 fine; Mitchell Goodman, 44, an author from Temple, Maine, fined $5,000.

New 'Air Filter' Law Invoked For 1st Time

A new ordinance requiring all autos to be equipped with air filters or air cleaners on the carburetors was invoked for the first time today in Municipal Court, leading to a fine of $15 and $7.50 costs for the defendant.

Kenneth Brinkley of 1196 Pennsylvania Ave. was named in the affidavit signed by Fire Chief Alfred J. VanDyne, alleging he operated an auto Monday without the carburetor device. The chief said the lack of an air filter was discovered when firemen were called to quell a blaze in the motor of Brinkley's auto.

Council enacted the ordinance about six months ago at the chief's request.

Steering Group Meets

Pottery Festival Called 'Success,' Set For 1969

Termed a "surprising success," the Tri-State Pottery Festival was scheduled for the third week of June 1969 by the festival committee Tuesday night during a dinner meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

The committee, which heard reports and evaluations, also made plans for the incorporation of the festival as a nonprofit organization under Ohio charter.

H. Jud English, chairman, presided at the session attended by 15.

Bills amounting to $464 for such items as liability insurance, trophies, prizes, electrical service, advertising, a shuttle bus operation and other expenses were authorized.

It was estimated some $1,700 was cleared on the sale of souvenirs, programs, booth space, but other bills are expected.

THE COMMITTEE agreed to stage the festival June 19-21 next year. It also agreed to continue the present officers until incorporation papers are presented and new officers and trustees designated. English estimated the proceedings can be undertaken in about a month.

Despite some problems, the first annual fete was described as well received throughout the district, with an expanded program expected next year.

Jack Hill, chairman of the Jaycee-sponsored booths and "mall," said 17 booths were erected, and about $171 cleared from rentals of $15 each. Guards, cleaning and special permits were among expenses. He said he expected many more organizations to sponsor booths next year.

Mrs. James Locke reported on the sales of souvenir plates, ash trays and coffee mugs by the Quota Club. She said all the

Peoples Natural Gas Seeks Rate Increase

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 7.4 per cent rate increase is needed to offset increasing operating costs for Peoples Natural Gas Co., its president says.

Stewart E. McMurray made the statement Tuesday at a Public Utility Commission hearing.

The proposed increase would affect rates for about 288,000 residential, commercial and industrial consumers in 16 Western Pennsylvania counties.

Close Kept Secret

Humphrey Aide Denies Anyone Selected 'Veep'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey has not offered the vice presidential spot on his Democratic presidential ticket to anyone and isn't even telling his closest associates whom he wants, say sources close to the vice president.

These sources list a dozen possibilities, including governors, senators, former governors and an ambassador.

One name mentioned is that of Humphrey's principal rival for the Democratic nomination, Minnesota Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

The name of Massachusetts Sen. Edward M. Kennedy gets passing mention in talks with sources close to Humphrey.

After the assassination of Kennedy's brother, Robert, then a leading contender for the nomination, some commentators and pollsters saw Edward Kennedy as the strongest choice Humphrey could make.

Humphrey himself vividly recalls the anxious weeks he went through in 1964 before being tapped by President Johnson to be his running mate.

Johnson was unopposed for the presidential nomination and waited dramatically until the Democratic National Convention was under way in Atlantic City, N.J., before summoning Humphrey, then Senate majority whip, and Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., to Washington. On leaving Washington for Atlantic City a few hours later, Johnson disclosed that Humphrey was his choice.

Spock Given Jail Term In Draft Case

BOSTON (AP)—Dr. Benjamin Spock was sentenced today to two years in prison and ordered to pay a $5,000 fine for conspiracy to aid, abet and counsel young men to avoid the draft.

His three codefendants also received two-year prison sentences, but were ordered to pay varied fines.

U.S. Dist. Judge Francis J. W. Ford granted stays of execution for all the sentences, pending appeals to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, and continued the defendants' $1,000 bonds.

Convicted with the 65-year-old pediatrician were Yale Chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43, fined $5,000; Michael Ferber, 23, a Harvard graduate student, $1,000 fine; Mitchell Goodman, 44, an author from Temple, Maine, fined $5,000.

Board Adjusts Charges In 2 City Sewer Projects

A three - man equalization board appointed by City Council June 24 heard objections from 10 property - owners and granted adjustments to some in a meeting Tuesday night at City Hall in which it acted on protests against assessments for two proposed sanitary sewer projects.

The board ruled out assessments entirely and substituted a schedule of connection charges for a sewer project in the Main Blvd.-Montrose Ave. area designed primarily to serve the new school complex under construction. The board agreed that there will be a connection charge of $400 for single family dwellings and an $800 charge for the Board of Education for the new schools.

The action was taken after the board met with some members of Council who indicated they believed Council would be willing to accept the agreement on connection charges. The charges will be levied as properties are hooked onto the sewer. The assessment for the job had been estimated at $14,-681.

There were no objections to the assessments for the Alton St. area sewer. The charges were estimated to total $1,004.10.

Eight objections were filed on the assessments for the Wooster Ave. area sewer. Six alleged they should not be charged because their homes already were connected with sewers installed previously.

The board granted the requests and eliminated the assessments. The ruling affected the properties of Mr. and Mrs. Dohrman Wilkinson of 1720 Jennings Ave., Mr. and Mrs. William Warrick Sr. of 1753 Wooster Ave., Mr. and Mrs. David Wilkinson of MC 21, Wooster Ave., Albert Griffith of 1715 Wooster Ave., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cunningham of 1722 Jennings Ave. and Woodrow W. Travis of Cornell Alley and James St.

Protests on the Wooster Ave. sewer also were filed by Albert Hampson of 1714 Jennings Ave. and Mrs. Chalmer Nicholson of 1718 Jennings Ave.

They questioned the board on the method used in computing the assessments. They were told Engineer George Bloomgren met with the Board of Public Utilities and a decision was made to set the assessment equivalent to the least expensive of the three projects, or roughly $5.39 per front foot. This was applied to the assessments for the total project, which meant the assessment amounted to about half the total project cost of $43,000.

Hampson withdrew his objection after hearing the explanation. The board eliminated the assessment for one of two lots owned by Mrs. Nicholson, cutting the charge from $539 to $269.50.

The new allocation means that the city will bear about $36,000 of the total project cost of $43,-000, less the amounts it collects from property - owners for connections to the line in the Maine Blvd. area.

The equalization board was comprised of Theodore Scheffer, Edwin Maloney and Everett Croft. Asst. Solicitor Jackman S. Vodrey appeared on behalf of the city.

A woman defendant who appeared before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff this morning in a sleeveless yellow sweater and black slacks was told to "come back tomorrow, dressed like a lady."

The judge declined to hear the intoxication charge facing Nancy Taylor of W. 6th St., asserting she was not attired properly. The woman was arrested Tuesday at 3:10 p. m. on W. 7th St. by Patrolman Orin C. Smith, police reported.

Two other intoxication defendants were remanded to County Jail in default of fines of $100 and costs each imposed on intoxication charges. They were Edgar Rice of 942 Dresden Ave., arrested at 12:10 this morning in Peach Alley, and Olin VanMeter of East Liverpool, cited at 10:08 p. m. Tuesday in Green Ln.

Edward Anderson of Roanoke, Va., who also pleaded guilty to an intoxication charge, was given a suspended $10 fine on condition he left town immediately. He was cited Tuesday at 10:03 p. m. William S. Richards of Chester RD 1, cited at 12:16 a.m. today in Green Ln. on an intoxication charge, was fined $25 and costs.

Trial Planned On 3 Charges

A Municipal Court trial is planned Monday morning for an East Liverpool motorist jailed early today on three charges.

Robert L. Brewer of 124 Center Alley was cited at 5:28 a.m. on Jackson St. by Patrolman Arthur Peters on charges of being in physical control of an auto while under the influence of alcohol; public intoxication and attempting to elude an officer after he had been signalled to stop.

Brewer, taken before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff this morning, asked a continuance to allow him to obtain counsel. The court complied and set his appearance bond at $500.

The court also set a hearing Monday for John C. Buzzard, 59, of 1400 Trentvale St., cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol Thursday at 10:50 a. m. on Route 30 on a charge of operating an auto with a defective exhaust system.

Dale M Chenault, 29, of Wellsville RD 1 was fined $10 and costs after pleading guilty to a patrol charge of driving a truck with a defective muffler. Chenault told the court the muffler and tail pipe have been replaced since he was cited Friday at 1 p. m. on Route 7.

Driver Faces 4 Charges After 2 Road Accidents

A 28 - year - old Summitville man, injured in two highway mishaps within three minutes south of Lisbon Tuesday, was in "fair" condition today at Salem City Hospital — facing four charges.

Robert E. Reed received lacerations of the face in the double accidents on Route 164 about 3:40 p.m.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Reed was headed south in a 1960 sedan in the north lane and collided with a 1967 station wagon operated by Donald L. Eisiminger, 21, of Youngstown.

Eisiminger said he swerved to avoid the oncoming auto, but they collided when the other driver attempted to return to his own lane. The other motorist drove away, Eisiminger told officers.

A FEW MINUTES later, officers said, Reed's car veered off the west side of the highway after passing over a hillcrest, came back on the road and went off the east side and struck an embankment, stopping upright on the highway.

Reed was cited for driving while intoxicated, leaving the scene of an accident, driving left of center and driving with a fictitious license.

Eisiminger was injured, officers said, but apparently did not require treatment.

Cars of two city residents were damaged in another of five mishaps investigated yesterday by the Patrol.

Officers said a car driven by Paul E. Boggess, 24, of 1841 Harvey Ave. struck a parked auto owned by Sheila Bleigh, 20, of 1611 Alpha St. on Parkway about a mile north of Pennsylvania Ave. at 11:35 a.m.

Boggess said he was headed north and swerved to the right to avoid a southbound vehicle, and his 1966 coach hit the parked sedan.

A CITY MAN was cited by the patrol following a one-car mishap on County Rd. 424 Tuesday at 10:33 p. m.

Robert W. Moore, 18, of 1717 Holiday St. was charged with reckless operation after his 1962 sedan swerved off the east side of the road just north of Route 267, and crashed into a fence on the property of Clyde Diddle of MC 22.

Gertrude M. Campbell, 23, of RD 1 was cited following a two-car collision on Birch Rd. yesterday at 7:30 p.m.

She was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way after her 1958 sedan pulled from a private drive onto the roadway about a mile north of Route 7 and was hit by a 1960 coach, officers said.

—:—

THE COACH was operated by Delilah C. Williams, 25, also of RD 1.

Two tractor trailer rigs were damaged in a mishap involving three vehicles near Rogers Tuesday at 10:20 a. m. the patrol reported.

Charles W. Hacker, 28, of Bridgeport said his southbound rig went out of control on Route 7 when the brakes locked as he applied them to avoid an approaching vehicle.

The trailer of the rig then swung left of center and struck a tank trailer of a northbound rig driven by James H. Helms, 47, of New Martinsville (W.Va.).

Banks' Officers Told Of New City Inspection Laws

Representatives of commercial banks and savings and loan institutions heard an explanation of the city's new building and housing codes and zoning laws in a meeting with Planning Coordinator Don Eckert Tuesday afternoon at the Ohio Valley Gas Co. office.

Representatives attended from the Potters Savings & Loan Co., the First National Bank, the Potters Bank & Trust Co. and the Central Federal Savings & Loan Association of Wellsville.

Eckert pointed out a long - range inspection of all buildings has been launched by Chester M. Brown, housing and building inspector, in compliance with codes enacted by Council late in 1967. The inspections, made without charge, are designed primarily to assure the public safety, Eckert said.

When a financial institution is approached for a mortgage loan on real estate, it may request an inspection of the property before acting on the request, Eckert said. The same suggestion has been made to real estate brokers, he added.

Eisminger was injured, officers said, but apparently did not require treatment.

Cars of two city residents were damaged in another of five mishaps investigated yesterday by the Patrol.

Officers said a car driven by Paul E. Boggess, 24, of 1841 Harvey Ave. struck a parked auto owned by Sheila Bleigh, 20, of 1611 Alpha St. on Parkway about a mile north of Pennsylvania Ave. at 11:35 a.m.

Boggess said he was headed north and swerved to the right to avoid a southbound vehicle, and his 1966 coach hit the parked sedan.

A CITY MAN was cited by the patrol following a one-car mishap on County Rd. 424 Tuesday at 10:33 p. m.

Robert W. Moore, 18, of 1717 Holiday St. was charged with reckless operation after his 1962 sedan swerved off the east side of the road just north of Route 267, and crashed into a fence on the property of Clyde Diddle of MC 22.

Gertrude M. Campbell, 23, of RD 1 was cited following a two-car collision on Birch Rd. yesterday at 7:30 p.m.

She was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way after her 1958 sedan pulled from a private drive onto the roadway about a mile north of Route 7 and was hit by a 1960 coach, officers said.

—:—

THE COACH was operated by Delilah C. Williams, 25, also of RD 1.

Two tractor trailer rigs were damaged in a mishap involving three vehicles near Rogers Tuesday at 10:20 a. m. the patrol reported.

Charles W. Hacker, 28, of Bridgeport said his southbound rig went out of control on Route 7 when the brakes locked as he applied them to avoid an approaching vehicle.

The trailer of the rig then swung left of center and struck a tank trailer of a northbound rig driven by James H. Helms, 47, of New Martinsville (W.Va.).

Banks' Officers Told Of New City Inspection Laws

Representatives of commercial banks and savings and loan institutions heard an explanation of the city's new building and housing codes and zoning laws in a meeting with Planning Coordinator Don Eckert Tuesday afternoon at the Ohio Valley Gas Co. office.

Representatives attended from the Potters Savings & Loan Co., the First National Bank, the Potters Bank & Trust Co. and the Central Federal Savings & Loan Association of Wellsville.

Eckert pointed out a long - range inspection of all buildings has been launched by Chester M. Brown, housing and building inspector, in compliance with codes enacted by Council late in 1967. The inspections, made without charge, are designed primarily to assure the public safety, Eckert said.

When a financial institution is approached for a mortgage loan on real estate, it may request an inspection of the property before acting on the request, Eckert said. The same suggestion has been made to real estate brokers, he added.

Meeting Modest Goals

No small improvement in East Liverpool's housing takes place each year—through new construction or in repairs, maintenance and additions undertaken by owners concerned about their investment or insuring the safety of their property.

But there remain too many deteriorating structures for which absentee owners or careless householders fail to provide proper maintenance, so that real hazards exist, so that neighborhoods begin to reflect the squalor and neglect of one or two homes.

It was with the intention of upgrading the general level of housing in this city for the betterment of the whole community and protection of each resident that the building code was adopted by Council in 1967.

It is for the implementation of these beneficial regulations that the long range inspection of all structures was launched this week.

The inspections should serve a worthwhile purpose in assuring homeowners their houses are either in satisfactory condition or are in need of some work or changes which will eliminate an unsafe situation, avert some costly repairs in the future and improve the building, the neighborhood and community in general.

If East Liverpool is to be the commercial and residential hub of the immediate tri-state area, adequate safeguards and planned development for housing are musts.

But more important, if each man, woman and child is to live in safe and healthful home in line with the living standards of 1968, the code and the inspection system provide the proper guidelines and incentive to meet these modest goals.

End Measles Hazard

Parents of children aged 1 to 12 in Columbiana County should have by now made a firm resolve to obtain a measles immunization for their youngsters Sunday afternoon if the vaccine hasn't been administered to them before.

The county Medical Society, aware of the extreme health danger connected with measles, now termed the No. 1 crippler and killer of children, has joined with the society's auxiliary and the health department to sponsor the clinics.

Until five years ago, measles was just one of those inevitable things such as skinned knees and stubbed toes which kids naturally got . . . and naturally got over.

It's difficult to realize children can die from measles or become mentally retarded. It's hard to understand that many children who have measles soon undergo behavior changes, become dull, have "stages" and "moods."

The new vaccine, first used in 1963 to give lifelong immunity against the disease, can insure children against such tragedy. Today, more than 12 million youngsters in the U.S. have been immunized.

No parent in Columbiana County can afford to pass this opportunity to protect his children and their future.

Bigger And Better

Not that anyone had any doubts, but the Tri - State Pottery Festival held last month has been labeled a success by the steering committee which, when it convened last January to contemplate the project, had some small doubts.

Not only was the response from the visitors favorable (the guest book had such entries as "Excellent," "Wonderful" and "Why wasn't this done before?"), the funds obtained from souvenir and program sales and booth rentals put the festival's finances "in the black."

The pottery industry and the East Liverpool area also received a lot of well - deserved attention as a result of the 3-day event, earning new friends and respect throughout the region.

The committee is now moving to incorporate as a non-profit organization, placing the festival on a stronger legal and financial footing, retaining the broad - based community participation which many believe was the secret of its success.

With such a "hit", the inevitable question is, what will they do next year? Besides ironing out some of the bugs of the first fete, the committee is already turning over some ideas to make the second year more enjoyable and a real smash.

A Timely Meeting

The request of South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu for a meeting with President Johnson to talk over "important and urgent matters" was given prompt consideration by the U.S. government.

President Thieu evidently has something important on his mind or he would have used regular channels to communicate with President Johnson.

The Pacific meeting has been set tentatively for July 20.

The meeting may possibly cover new ground, although it is more likely to concern U.S. intentions at Paris.

The South Vietnamese government has never been receptive to the preliminary peace talks with Hanoi representatives. It has often expressed a fear South Vietnam would be "sold out" in Paris negotiations.

Even with the distinct prospect that the Johnson-Thieu conference might later prove to be insignificant, the U.S. government was wise to move ahead with plans for it.

The chance that some spark from the meeting would get the bogged-down Paris negotiations going in the right direction again makes the effort worth a try.

The Smoking Controversy

One of the mysteries of this age is what Congress will do, if anything, in the wake of all the information it is getting about the harmful effects of cigarette smoking.

The Public Health Service has just informed Congress that evidence shows life expectancy among heavy smokers is reduced by up to eight years.

Coming on the heels of the Public Health Service report was a request by the Federal Trade Commission to ban all cigarette adversiting on television and radio.

While there is a difference of opinion on exactly how harmful smoking is, there is general agreement today that cigarette smoking causes some ill effects.

The question is how far can the government go in the area of restricting the use of tobacco products and advertising by manufacturers.

When first reports on the hazards of smoking were revealed a few years ago, there was a noticable decline in cigarette consumption. Sales quickly jumped to a record high.

Smoking is a personal choice and millions of Americans have decided to ignore warnings and continue the habit.

It is not likely that prohibiting advertising will change their minds if the threat of losing eight years of their lives has no impact.

The FTC apparently is trying to eliminate advertisements that would entice youngsters into the mistake of smoking. The value of this line of thinking is debatable.

With so many of the youngsters' parents, friends and acquaintances dedicated to being walking examples that smoking is acceptable and enjoyable, removal of part or all cigarette advertising is not going to have much of a

More Campus Riots Coming

There are other student leaders besides those who lead the SDS assaults on the nation's campuses. One of the moderates is Edward Schwartz, 25-year-old liberal president of the U.S. National Student Assn., which speaks for 1.7 million young men and women in the nation's colleges.

Victor Riesel

He has been warning Congress and the people that there will be new riotous demonstrations, sit-ins, shout-outs, confrontations and violent clashes next fall—unless. . . .

I asked him, as spokesman for the country's largest student organization (made up of student government leaders from 340 campuses), to outline just what he means and what he and his colleagues want.

Here is his reply:

By EDWARD SCHWARTZ
President of the National Student Association

WASHINGTON — Those in the know around the student community are predicting that an even stormier atmosphere may exist on campus next fall than dominated academic life this spring.

The prediction stems not from any inside dope on a new "conspiracy," or even from a sense that college administrators have begun to harden in opposition to student demands. They arise, rather, from an assessment of unfolding political events between now and autumn, and the impact of these events on the nation's young.

The past year has witnessed a continuing conflict between two anti-Johnson, anti-establishment forces on the campus—young radicals and young liberals.

The young radicals, affiliated largely with the Students for a Democratic Society, have relied almost exclusively on large, even disruptive, demonstrations against the Pentagon, war recruiters on campus, and Columbia University to express their discontent.

The young liberals, who work primarily through student government and attend conferences of the National Student Association, have tried to channel discontent through the "system" by supporting the candidacy of Eugene McCarthy through most of the year.

IN THE FALL, when no candidate was available to challenge the President, the radicals dictated student strategy even though a few liberals developed a fragmentary effort to "Dump Johnson." With the New Hampshire primary and the rise of McCarthy, however, the liberals clearly have held the ascendancy.

Yet this may be temporary. The liberals' power on campus stems from the success of their techniques.

McCarthy's surprising showing strengthened student liberal leaders, who had argued for hope during the "hopeless" months of the fall. The liberal students still enjoy the reputation as "the young people who changed the course of presidential history."

This reputation will vanish if the voters are faced with a Humphrey-Nixon choice in November, however, and the young liberals know it.

While Humphrey does not arouse the hatred in this group that Johnson evokes, he still is deemed an administration apologist. Even if he tries to chart an independent course, the students will find it difficult to forget his spirited defense of each new escalation and the war itself.

That is their dilemma. The young liberals chose to work for political candidates in the belief that such work would yield change. Their opposition to the war, their commitment to massive efforts in the ghettos outrides their allegiance to any man, to any particular way of working.

While most do not relish draft resistance and disruptive demonstrations, they most certainly will resort to these methods if everything else seems to fail.

The impending induction of graduate students into the armed forces adds to this tension. In June, graduating seniors were classified "1-A," and by fall, many will be in the army or in jail.

THESE, MOREOVER, maintain close friendships with students in undergraduate schools, who will feel their dilemma personally. Already, over one hundred male Woodrow Wilson fellows have pledged, "We won't go," if called to fight in Vietnam. Others may follow.

All of these developments, which appear likely, lend substance to the view that next fall will bring new turmoil to the nation's campuses. Indeed, the radicals are waiting for just that.

Many now say, "We're letting these liberal kids make their attempt to work through the system, but when it fails, we hope that they'll realize that our way is the only way to work." Their way has been shown amply at Columbia.

Assuming that young liberal attempts to achieve change through the system fail, will any effort succeed in forestalling this renewed conflict? Frankly, it is difficult to imagine one.

Nonetheless, it is possible to identify the people and forces upon whom the responsibility or the creation of new alternatives rests.

First, the leaders of the student liberals themselves. Many have remained with the McCarthy campaign since New Hampshire, some even before. Most of these leaders plan to attend the next National Student Association congress in August. If they come prepared with a program for the fall, it will be considered seriously.

Second, Senator McCarthy. Whether he wins or loses, his personal rapport with thousands of students will remain unimpeachable.

Third, Mr. Allard Lowenstine. An energetic lawyer who served as NSA president in pre-CIA 1950-51, Lowenstein's brief trips to the past two NSA congresses produced both the first anti-war student body president letter and the plan for students to lead in the "Dump Johnson" campaign last fall.

LOWENSTEIN HAS JUST emerged victorious from a hard primary fight for the Democratic nominat on from New York's Fifth Congrsssional District, in Nassau County. He now is being sought for advice by hundreds of student liberal leaders who have forgotten neither his political insight nor his support to student causes.

Finally, the posture of public leaders toward students. A speedy enactment of the 18-year-old vote, an effort to involve students in local party organizations and encouragement of lobbying efforts to influence policy might open enough channels to absorb student energies.

Unfortunately, the recent passage by 5 to 1 in the House of Representatives of a bill to block federal scholarship funds to student demonstrators may indicate that public opposition to student activism is growing. If this is the case, there may be no hope to open these new channels.

Yet there may be no hope despite any good intentions of the public and the colleges. The War in Vietnam is to students of the 60's what Joe McCarthy's witch-hunts were to liberals of the '50s.

This is the tension of the young liberals—how to hold their peace when the country continues its war. They may not be peaceful much longer.

We are very fortunate to have a paper like The Review where we can complain, comment or thank the many wonderful people who take time out of their busy times to think and pray for the sick.

I am so thankful for so many kind friends, relatives and neighbors. Let us all strive in these troubled times to be the kind of friend that people still are, if we only see more good that is still found in many.

Odd Facts

More than 50 per cent of the general American population suffer from headaches, with women afflicted more than men.

The first air raids in wartime history were staged Jan. 19, 1915, during World War I when German zeppelins began dropping bombs on English communities.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Chief Justice

Many questions were left unanswered by the extraordinary interview which Chief Justice Earl Warren granted to the press last Friday.

Although justices of the highest court in the land are not supposed to talk politics, and Mr. Warren himself refused to answer some questions in that category, he nevertheless took occasion to express his opinion publicly on the merits of the two candidates for the Supreme Court selected by President Johnson.

This comes at a time when a distinctly political controversy is going on in the Senate of the United States with respect to those same appointments.

ALREADY SEVERAL MEMBERS of the Senate have ascribed political motives to Chief Justice Warren for submitting his letter of retirement at this time, instead of waiting until a new president has been inaugurated next January.

Certainly the Senate committee on the judiciary hasn't had the chance as yet to consider whether Justice Fortas and Judge Thornberry —who have been announced as nominees for the vacancies when they do occur—should or should not be appointed.

Nor has there been any opportunity for the other justices of the high court to express themselves. Indeed, it is most unusual for a member of the court to venture to evaluate publicly any prospective nominees to the bench.

So it was surprising that Chief Justice Warren volunteered a comment on the possible appointment of Justice Fortas for chief justice. He spoke favorably of him, as having a good record as a lawyer and as having served on the high court for three years, then added:

"I can't imagine a better background for a chief justice than that."

But there are other associate justices now on the high court who have served a longer period than Mr. Fortas. They come from both political parties. Did they not deserve consideration?

There is, for instance, Justice Byron White, who, at 51, has served six years on the court. Potter Stewart is 53 and has been an associate justice for nine years, while William J. Brennan Jr., 62, has been on the Supreme Court 11 years.

William O. Douglas has been an associate justice 29 years and John M. Harlan has served 14 years. Both are 69 years of age.

Thus each of these men is at least eight years younger than Chief Justice Warren and has served at least three years longer on the Supreme Court than Mr. Fortas. Also, Mr. Fortas is five years older than Justice Stewart and seven years older than Justice White.

It isn't clear either just why Chief Justice Warren hasn't given a definite date for his retirement and has preferred instead to leave the question open so that he may stay in office if the Senate fails to conform the men who now are being considered for the two posts.

In fact, Mr. Warren intimates that he could contiue indefinitely as chief justice if the President and the Senate carry on a prolonged controversy about confirming Messrs. Fortas and Thornberry.

IT NOW IS BEING ASKED whether the Senate Judiciary Committee will have the opportunity to elicit from members of the bar their opinions as to the qualifications of other men on the bench who might be chosen in the event that the two nominations presented by President Johnson are voted down or eliminated by a filibuster.

The inadequacy of the present system is illustrated by the fact that the President can appoint one of his closest friends to be chief justice of the United States without any opporunity being afforded for consideration of other judges who may have been much better qualified for the post.

The real question is whether the American people are entitled to have the ablest persons as chief justice and associate justices, instead of being compelled to accept the political cronies of a president who in a few months is to leave the White House.

The young liberals, who work primarily through student government and attend conferences of the National Student Association, have tried to channel discontent through the "system" by supporting the candidacy of Eugene McCarthy through most of the year.

IN THE FALL, when no candidate was available to challenge the President, the radicals dictated student strategy even though a few liberals developed a fragmentary effort to "Dump Johnson." With the New Hampshire primary and the rise of McCarthy, however, the liberals clearly have held the ascendancy.

Yet this may be temporary. The liberals' power on campus stems from the success of their techniques.

McCarthy's surprising showing strengthened student liberal leaders, who had argued for hope during the "hopeless" months of the fall. The liberal students still enjoy the reputation as "the young people who changed the course of presidential history."

This reputation will vanish if the voters are faced with a Humphrey-Nixon choice in November, however, and the young liberals know it.

While Humphrey does not arouse the hatred in this group that Johnson evokes, he still is deemed an administration apologist. Even if he tries to chart an independent course, the students will find it difficult to forget his spirited defense of each new escalation and the war itself.

That is their dilemma. The young liberals chose to work for political candidates in the belief that such work would yield change. Their opposition to the war, their commitment to massive efforts in the ghettos outrides their allegiance to any man, to any particular way of working.

While most do not relish draft resistance and disruptive demonstrations, they most certainly will resort to these methods if everything else seems to fail.

The impending induction of graduate students into the armed forces adds to this tension. In June, graduating seniors were classified "1-A," and by fall, many will be in the army or in jail.

THESE, MOREOVER, maintain close friendships with students in undergraduate schools, who will feel their dilemma personally. Already, over one hundred male Woodrow Wilson fellows have pledged, "We won't go," if called to fight in Vietnam. Others may follow.

All of these developments, which appear likely, lend substance to the view that next fall will bring new turmoil to the nation's campuses. Indeed, the radicals are waiting for just that.

Many now say, "We're letting these liberal kids make their attempt to work through the system, but when it fails, we hope that they'll realize that our way is the only way to work." Their way has been shown amply at Columbia.

Assuming that young liberal attempts to achieve change through the system fail, will any effort succeed in forestalling this renewed conflict? Frankly, it is difficult to imagine one.

Nonetheless, it is possible to identify the people and forces upon whom the responsibility or the creation of new alternatives rests.

First, the leaders of the student liberals themselves. Many have remained with the McCarthy campaign since New Hampshire, some even before. Most of these leaders plan to attend the next National Student Association congress in August. If they come prepared with a program for the fall, it will be considered seriously.

Second, Senator McCarthy. Whether he wins or loses, his personal rapport with thousands of students will remain unimpeachable.

Third, Mr. Allard Lowenstine. An energetic lawyer who served as NSA president in pre-CIA 1950-51, Lowenstein's brief trips to the past two NSA congresses produced both the first anti-war student body president letter and the plan for students to lead in the "Dump Johnson" campaign last fall.

LOWENSTEIN HAS JUST emerged victorious from a hard primary fight for the Democratic nominat on from New York's Fifth Congrsssional District, in Nassau County. He now is being sought for advice by hundreds of student liberal leaders who have forgotten neither his political insight nor his support to student causes.

Finally, the posture of public leaders toward students. A speedy enactment of the 18-year-old vote, an effort to involve students in local party organizations and encouragement of lobbying efforts to influence policy might open enough channels to absorb student energies.

Unfortunately, the recent passage by 5 to 1 in the House of Representatives of a bill to block federal scholarship funds to student demonstrators may indicate that public opposition to student activism is growing. If this is the case, there may be no hope to open these new channels.

Yet there may be no hope despite any good intentions of the public and the colleges. The War in Vietnam is to students of the 60's what Joe McCarthy's witch-hunts were to liberals of the '50s.

This is the tension of the young liberals—how to hold their peace when the country continues its war. They may not be peaceful much longer.

We are very fortunate to have a paper like The Review where we can complain, comment or thank the many wonderful people who take time out of their busy times to think and pray for the sick.

I am so thankful for so many kind friends, relatives and neighbors. Let us all strive in these troubled times to be the kind of friend that people still are, if we only see more good that is still found in many.

Odd Facts

More than 50 per cent of the general American population suffer from headaches, with women afflicted more than men.

The first air raids in wartime history were staged Jan. 19, 1915, during World War I when German zeppelins began dropping bombs on English communities.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Chief Justice

Many questions were left unanswered by the extraordinary interview which Chief Justice Earl Warren granted to the press last Friday.

Although justices of the highest court in the land are not supposed to talk politics, and Mr. Warren himself refused to answer some questions in that category, he nevertheless took occasion to express his opinion publicly on the merits of the two candidates for the Supreme Court selected by President Johnson.

This comes at a time when a distinctly political controversy is going on in the Senate of the United States with respect to those same appointments.

ALREADY SEVERAL MEMBERS of the Senate have ascribed political motives to Chief Justice Warren for submitting his letter of retirement at this time, instead of waiting until a new president has been inaugurated next January.

Certainly the Senate committee on the judiciary hasn't had the chance as yet to consider whether Justice Fortas and Judge Thornberry—who have been announced as nominees for the vacancies when they do occur—should or should not be appointed.

Nor has there been any opportunity for the other justices of the high court to express themselves. Indeed, it is most unusual for a member of the court to venture to evaluate publicly any prospective nominees to the bench.

So it was surprising that Chief Justice Warren volunteered a comment on the possible appointment of Justice Fortas for chief justice. He spoke favorably of him, as having a good record as a lawyer and as having served on the high court for three years, then added:

"I can't imagine a better background for a chief justice than that."

But there are other associate justices now on the high court who have served a longer period than Mr. Fortas. They come from both political parties. Did they not deserve consideration?

There is, for instance, Justice Byron White, who, at 51, has served six years on the court. Potter Stewart is 53 and has been an associate justice for nine years, while William J. Brennan Jr., 62, has been on the Supreme Court 11 years.

William O. Douglas has been an associate justice 29 years and John M. Harlan has served 14 years. Both are 69 years of age.

Thus each of these men is at least eight years younger than Chief Justice Warren and has served at least three years longer on the Supreme Court than Mr. Fortas. Also, Mr. Fortas is five years older than Justice Stewart and seven years older than Justice White.

It isn't clear either just why Chief Justice Warren hasn't given a definite date for his retirement and has preferred instead to leave the question open so that he may stay in office if the Senate fails to conform the men who now are being considered for the two posts.

In fact, Mr. Warren intimates that he could contiue indefinitely as chief justice if the President and the Senate carry on a prolonged controversy about confirming Messrs. Fortas and Thornberry.

IT NOW IS BEING ASKED whether the Senate Judiciary Committee will have the opportunity to elicit from members of the bar their opinions as to the qualifications of other men on the bench who might be chosen in the event that the two nominations presented by President Johnson are voted down or eliminated by a filibuster.

The inadequacy of the present system is illustrated by the fact that the President can appoint one of his closest friends to be chief justice of the United States without any opporunity being afforded for consideration of other judges who may have been much better qualified for the post.

The real question is whether the American people are entitled to have the ablest persons as chief justice and associate justices, instead of being compelled to accept the political cronies of a president who in a few months is to leave the White House.

IT WAS decided not to permit use of the decal for any further production, and a new decal with a city scene will be employed for the souvenir ware next year, so as to have a full set of different scenes.

James Locke of the Merchants Association said he had many comments from visitors and townspeople favorable to the fete. "There were happy people on the streets, and a feeling of community spirit. There was also a pride on the part of the pottery workers of the attention focused upon their crafts."

Suggestions for operating of the festival headquarters were given by Mrs. Sidney Porter and Mrs. Marvin Kinsey, co-chairmen for the project of the City Federation of Womens Clubs.

The need for regular shuttle bus service for tours from the headquarters building to the various potteries was emphasized, along with route markers and maps for those wishing to visit the firms.

A REPORT on the entertainment provided the three days of the first festival was given by Jack Hales, chairman, who pointed out all the performers were presented without cost to the fete. Only two scheduled programs failed to show up, he said. He expressed appreciation to those who took part.

Leo Lawrence described the rose show staged by the Dahlia and Floral Society, and said a greater participation by Youngstown and Pittsburgh growers is anticipated in 1969.

James Moss of the IBOP said the festival was endorsed by the pottery workers, but cautioned new ideas will be required each year for continued success. Audley Campbell of the Trades and Labor Council spoke briefly.

Additional downtown decorating is planned for next year, Thomas Phillips of the Merchants Association reported during a report of his activities.

Mrs. Geraldine Reed, who with Mrs. Helen Moore of the Business and Professional Women's Club, produced the souvenir program, said all but 246 of the 2,000 programs have been sold. She said with advertising and sales, about $1,000 was netted toward festival expenses.

A report on publicity and the "World Wide Pottery Olympics" was presented by Glenn Waight, who said information about the festival and the Olympics was used by a large number of newspapers, radio and television stations throughout the three-state area.

—:—

A REPORT on finances was outlined by E. R. Chandler, secretary, including money spent by the Merchants Association for decorations and for billboards. He said the Rotary Club provided $200 toward festival expenses.

English commended the committee heads for their work, and expressed appreciation to the many who volunteered time and services throughout the community.

English, Locke and others spoke of the cooperative spirit generated in producing the festival and the "neighborliness" which seemed to mark the attitudes of those who visited the downtown.

Arrangements were made for another trip by chartered bus to the Warren Playhouse on July 19.

Plans were discussed for an auction in August at the garage on Route 267 across the street from the Glenmoor fire hall.

The annual picnic and "Ladies Night" will be held Aug. 12 at the Carl Wollam farm on the Fredericktown Rd.

Roland McIntosh presided.

plates were sold, but there are 109 ash trays and 49 mugs which may be purchased yet.

—:—

IT WAS decided not to permit use of the decal for any further production, and a new decal with a city scene will be employed for the souvenir ware next year, so as to have a full set of different scenes.

James Locke of the Merchants Association said he had many comments from visitors and townspeople favorable to the fete. "There were happy people on the streets, and a feeling of community spirit. There was also a pride on the part of the pottery workers of the attention focused upon their crafts."

Suggestions for operating of the festival headquarters were given by Mrs. Sidney Porter and Mrs. Marvin Kinsey, co-chairmen for the project of the City Federation of Womens Clubs.

The need for regular shuttle bus service for tours from the headquarters building to the various potteries was emphasized, along with route markers and maps for those wishing to visit the firms.

A REPORT on the entertainment provided the three days of the first festival was given by Jack Hales, chairman, who pointed out all the performers were presented without cost to the fete. Only two scheduled programs failed to show up, he said. He expressed appreciation to those who took part.

Leo Lawrence described the rose show staged by the Dahlia and Floral Society, and said a greater participation by Youngstown and Pittsburgh growers is anticipated in 1969.

James Moss of the IBOP said the festival was endorsed by the pottery workers, but cautioned new ideas will be required each year for continued success. Audley Campbell of the Trades and Labor Council spoke briefly.

Additional downtown decorating is planned for next year, Thomas Phillips of the Merchants Association reported during a report of his activities.

Mrs. Geraldine Reed, who with Mrs. Helen Moore of the Business and Professional Women's Club, produced the souvenir program, said all but 246 of the 2,000 programs have been sold. She said with advertising and sales, about $1,000 was netted toward festival expenses.

A report on publicity and the "World Wide Pottery Olympics" was presented by Glenn Waight, who said information about the festival and the Olympics was used by a large number of newspapers, radio and television stations throughout the three-state area.

—:—

A REPORT on finances was outlined by E. R. Chandler, secretary, including money spent by the Merchants Association for decorations and for billboards. He said the Rotary Club provided $200 toward festival expenses.

English commended the committee heads for their work, and expressed appreciation to the many who volunteered time and services throughout the community.

English, Locke and others spoke of the cooperative spirit generated in producing the festival and the "neighborliness" which seemed to mark the attitudes of those who visited the downtown.

All of earth energy, except atomic and nuclear power, came originally from the sun.

ANN LANDERS

Cultured To The Core?

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: If you say this woman's behavior is correct I'll take your word for it and not give it another thought.

Mrs. X is forever turning over the cups and plates when she attends a tea or a luncheon to see if it's bone china or something cheaper. I've seen her take eyeglasses out of her purse and examine the silverware.

She taps glasses testing for the true ring of expensive crystal. She fingers the tablecloth to determine the quality of the fabric. She sniffs book covers to learn if they're genuine leather or plastic. Once she touched a painting to see if it was a lithograph or an oil. The hostess was visibly irritated.

This woman is supposed to be one of the Boston Brahmins — beautifully educated and cultured to the core. What do you have to say about her conduct? —BROOKLINE.

-:-

Dear Brookline: Cultured people don't examine china and silver for hallmarks while visiting friends. And I don't believe the woman you described is beautifully educated. If she were she wouldn't have to ping the crystal, sniff books and touch pictures to learn if they are the real McCoy. She'd know.

Overgrown Lad

Dear Ann: I must comment on the woman who signed herself "Mother of a Ruined Boy." Some of the details were so close to my own life that I'm sure people who know me think I wrote it.

My son is 24 years of age and he can't decide what necktie to put on in the morning. If the eggs are too hard he throws them in the sink. We sent him to three different boys' camps and he didn't stay in any of them more than seven days. He was turned down by six colleges and when he was finally accepted by a small junior college he stayed only 10 days.

If his father didn't own a business he wouldn't have a job. When a girl turns him down for a date he cries. I have a 24-year-old baby on my hands and it's my fault. I ruined this boy and I'm sad and sorry. Thank you for letting me get this off my chest.—ANOTHER FAILURE.

-:-

Dear Another: Getting it off your chest doesn't help the boy much. He has needed professional help for a long time. See that he gets it.

Dancing Feet

Dear Ann: I'm a girl with a strange problem. It's the way my boy friend dances. It's not that he is a rotten dancer. He's very good. TOO good.

I've done everything under the sun to follow him but I just can't do the fancy steps. I've practiced at home but it hasn't helped. If he'd stick to simple dancing we'd get along fine but he insists on doing the show-off stuff and it's not my style.

Why would a fellow embarrass a girl like that? Is there a solution? — TWO LEFT LEGS.

Dear Two: I know the type. He doesn't need a partner because he's always doing a solo.

Tell him you'd be glad to do the simple stuff but when he wants to try for the cup to please let you know so you can sit the number out and he can get a girl who'll help him look good.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A young man spattered a room in the Armed Forces Induction Center with what appeared to be animal blood.

He was booked on suspicion of battery against a policeman—soaked by the red stuff.

Lisbon's School Board Adopts Record Budget

LISBON — The village board of education Tuesday night approved a record $979,488 budget for fiscal 1969. The budget for the current year is $824,437.

The largest increase is for instruction — $502,000, compared with $416,198 this year.

Supt. Joe W. Driscoll said he has been advised the school district's new valuation for tax purposes will be something over $13,000,000, or an increase of approximately $1,000,000. A countywide reappraisal was completed last month and property owners will begin paying taxes on the new valuations in 1969.

—:—

THE BOARD accepted the resignations of Miss Bonnie Swogger, high school English teacher the past 2½ years, and Thomas Coontz, who taught chemistry - physics last semester.

Three teachers were hired: Roger Cooley of North Lima, physical education, $5,200 per year; Raymond Knight of Salem, industrial arts, $7,875 plus one month, and Martha Sprague of Lisbon, commercial subjects, $6,300.

Cooley, a 1968 graduate of Youngstown State University and former athlete at North Lima High, will be assistant football coach. Knight taught in Salem and Alliance previously. Mrs. Sprague taught at Beaver Local High School last year.

Driscoll said he has no idea where to look for an instructor to replace Coontz, since chemistry - physics teachers are difficult to find.

—:—

ESTIMATED receipts (plus balances) in the 1969 budget follow, with this year's figures in parentheses:

General fund, $859,164 ($703,200); bond retirement, $78,573 ($78,196), and cafeteria, $41,750 ($43,041) — totals $979,488 ($824,437).

Estimated expenses: General fund, $773,150 ($660,298); bond retirement, $58,980 ($60,651), and cafeteria, $41,550 ($41,350) — totals, $873,680 ($762,299).

On the superintendent's recommendation, the board changed its policy on the number of correspondence school credits it will accept toward graduation. Lisbon previously would honor only three such credits. The board last night raised that to four to correspond to Ohio revised standards.

Mrs. Eddie James was elected delegate and Mrs. Gregg Ramsey alternate to the Ohio School Boards Association meeting Nov. 13-15 at Columbus.

THE BOARD authorized Driscoll to replace four electric typewriters — two in offices and two in typing classrooms — at a cost of $870, counting trade-in of three machines.

Lisbon's board is considering applying to the Ohio Department of Education for a basic adult education course for fiscal 1969. The federally - supported course would be for persons 18 and over who have less than an eighth - grade education.

Driscoll reported that the local "Head Start" unit is among those selected for a nationwide evaluation of the "Head Start" program. The study is being conducted by the department of elementary and special education in the College of Education at Ohio University, Athens.

The most valuable of all fruits that grow on trees is the apple, and it is also more widely grown than any other fruit. Apple trees grow everywhere in the world, except in the very hottest and very coldest regions.

Housing Bill Up For Final House Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's $5.5 billion, three-year housing bill has survived attempts to make deep cuts in the measure and appears headed for House approval.

The bill, up for possible final House action today, includes a program for government interest subsidies to low and moderate income families seeking to buy homes.

One amendment the House adopted Tuesday 118-101 does provide some restraint on the interest subsidy plan.

Instead of leaving the determination of eligibility to the Housing Department, the House provided that such aid, which could amount to absorbing all but 1 per cent of the interest, may be provided only to families whose income is not more than 30 per cent greater than that of families eligible for public housing.

This eligibility varies from community to community. A similar provision was inserted for tenants of interest-subsidized rental and co-operative housing.

Thieu Thinks Troops Can Leave In '69

ABOARD USS CONSTELLATION, off North Vietnam (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu said today that he thinks American troops can begin leaving South Vientam in 1969. He said the next Viet Cong offensive—expected late this month—"may be the last all-out effort from the Communists."

Thieu was reminded at a news conference aboard the aircraft carrier Constellation that he had said in April that American forces could be reduced by the end of 1968. He was asked how he felt about this now.

Mishap Hurts Young Cyclist

An 8-year-old Lincoln Ave. boy was admitted to City Hospital late Tuesday afternoon with injuries suffered in a collision between his bicycle and an auto on Peake St., police reported.

Richard Stanley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stanley of 919 Lincoln Ave., is "fairly good" with contusions and abrasions of the right foot and injuries to the nose and forehead.

Officers reported his southbound bicycle collided about 4:04 p.m. with a halted 1960 sedan driven by Helen Harris, 21, of 931 St. Clair Ave. Patrolman James W. Woods made the investigation at City Hospital, where the boy was taken by private auto.

Meanwhile, two cars were damaged, one heavily, in a collision Tuesday at 7:50 p. m. on St. Clair Ave. at Park Blvd.

The crash involved a 1963 sedan operated by Glenna C. Swauger, 43, of Glenmoor and a 1966 sedan operated by Richard L. Howard Jr., 23, of Meadow Rd.

Howard was southbound on St. Clair Ave. The woman said she was attempting to make a left turn off St. Clair into a private driveway. The crash caused extensive damage to the front of Howard's car and also damaged the front bumper and right front fender of the Swauger auto.

The woman was cited on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way in making a left turn.

Rotary Given New Data On 'Explosion'

Population growth, which was lauded and frequently rewarded at the turn of the century, is now a major problem in most areas of the world, Dr. Clarence Mayberry reminded members of the Rotary Club Tuesday.

During the luncheon at the Travelers Hotel, Mayberry said only Ireland, Israel, and possibly Australia, are endeavoring to expand their populations.

Since man, to a large extent, has taken the reins of population balance from nature, he also must assume the responsibility of retaining a realistic balance of human inhabitants, Walter Alvarez, a prominent doctor at the Mayor Clinic, advises.

India is an example of a nation which is attempting to meet this obligation, Dr. Mayberry pointed out. It has over 1,200 birth control centers which advise the people on family planning and offer medical alternatives to help control the problem.

Dr. Mayberry cited the estimated $20 billion spent by the public in 1967 for the mentally diseased, most of which probably could have been eliminated if proper birth control practices were in effect.

Other hereditary diseases, such as poor eyesight, also retard the capabilities of a child and could be eliminated through birth control, he added.

A comparatively more humane approach to the problem, which would be less effective, is to educate the public against child - bearing by members of families with histories of hereditary diseases, he continued. It should be kept in mind that the defects may skip one or more generations, but the gene is still there and most likely will reappear sooner or later, Mayberry added.

Other institutions concerned with these problems advise selective breeding as the best answer, Mayberry concluded.

Four Dismissed From Ohio State For 'Takeover'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) Ohio State University announced Tuesday that four students accused of having participated in the recent takeover of the administration building have been dismissed from school.

The university said four others also were identified as being involved in the April 26 incident. Two of them had already been dismissed for academic failure and the other two have withdrawn from school, officials said.

The records of the later four have been tagged to prevent their readmission to the university without special permission of the chief student personnel officer.

Twenty-six other students allegedly were involved in the incident. Ten of those have been dismissed for academic reasons and five have withdrawn. The records of those students also have been tagged.

The university did not identify any of the students. The investigation is continuing.

Yale University spent eight years authenticating a pre-Columbian world map, drawn in brownish ink on parchment. The existing map was copied by a Swiss monk in 1440, but probably was based on much earlier documents.

Four Dismissed From Ohio State For 'Takeover'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) Ohio State University announced Tuesday that four students accused of having participated in the recent takeover of the administration building have been dismissed from school.

The university said four others also were identified as being involved in the April 26 incident. Two of them had already been dismissed for academic failure and the other two have withdrawn from school, officials said.

The records of the later four have been tagged to prevent their readmission to the university without special permission of the chief student personnel officer.

Twenty-six other students allegedly were involved in the incident. Ten of those have been dismissed for academic reasons and five have withdrawn. The records of those students also have been tagged.

The university did not identify any of the students. The investigation is continuing.

Yale University spent eight years authenticating a pre-Columbian world map, drawn in brownish ink on parchment. The existing map was copied by a Swiss monk in 1440, but probably was based on much earlier documents.

Tap Fee Set For Industry

The Industry Municipal Authority Tuesday night passed a resolution governing the tap-in fee on new water lines to be laid in the Borough.

The resolution specifies any present home-owner located along the new water line who does not sign a contract before Sept. 1 will be required after that date to pay a tap-in fee of $400. The present tap-in fee is $200.

A spokesman said the resolution was passed in "fairness to those who are signing up now in accordance with the 90 percent potential sign-up required by the Housing Urban Development Agency which is providing 50 percent of the $270,100." Donald Haswell, chairman of the authority, reported 165 of the required 175 customers have signed a contract to pay the $200 fee.

He advised that those who do not sign up will still benefit from the new line since the location of new hydrants will provide reduced insurance rates and increase the value of individual properties.

HUD has approved the list of low bidders submitted by the authority. This will allow for the contracts to be awarded by Aug. 11 — within the 60-day period from bid opening held June 11.

Representatives of the bonding firm of Singer, Deane and Scribner of Beaver will present a proposal to purchase the bonds for the new bond issue when the authority holds a dinner meeting Tuesday at 6 p. m. at the Willows Motel at Industry.

Additional charges against the younger are malicious mischeif by "gunning" a motorcycle and disturbing residents on W. 9th St. and driving without an operator's license.

Police arrested the boys late Monday night after they fled from a "sleep-out" on a grassy traffic island at W. 8th and Lisbon Sts.

Hendershot of 142 W. 2nd St. Smith pleaded not guilty June 24 and later filed a "notice of alibi" advising that he was in a store in Monroeville, Pa., at the time of the alleged offense.

National League All-Stars Edge American League 1-0

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The Indians are running 80,000 ahead of their attendance pace of last season, the Pirates 100,000 behind.

The reasons are obvious. Cleveland has its best shot at the pennant since 1959. It looks like the team will not fold. And, while the Tigers may have an unbeatable lead, the Tribe is playing exciting, winning baseball, and should continue to draw the fans.

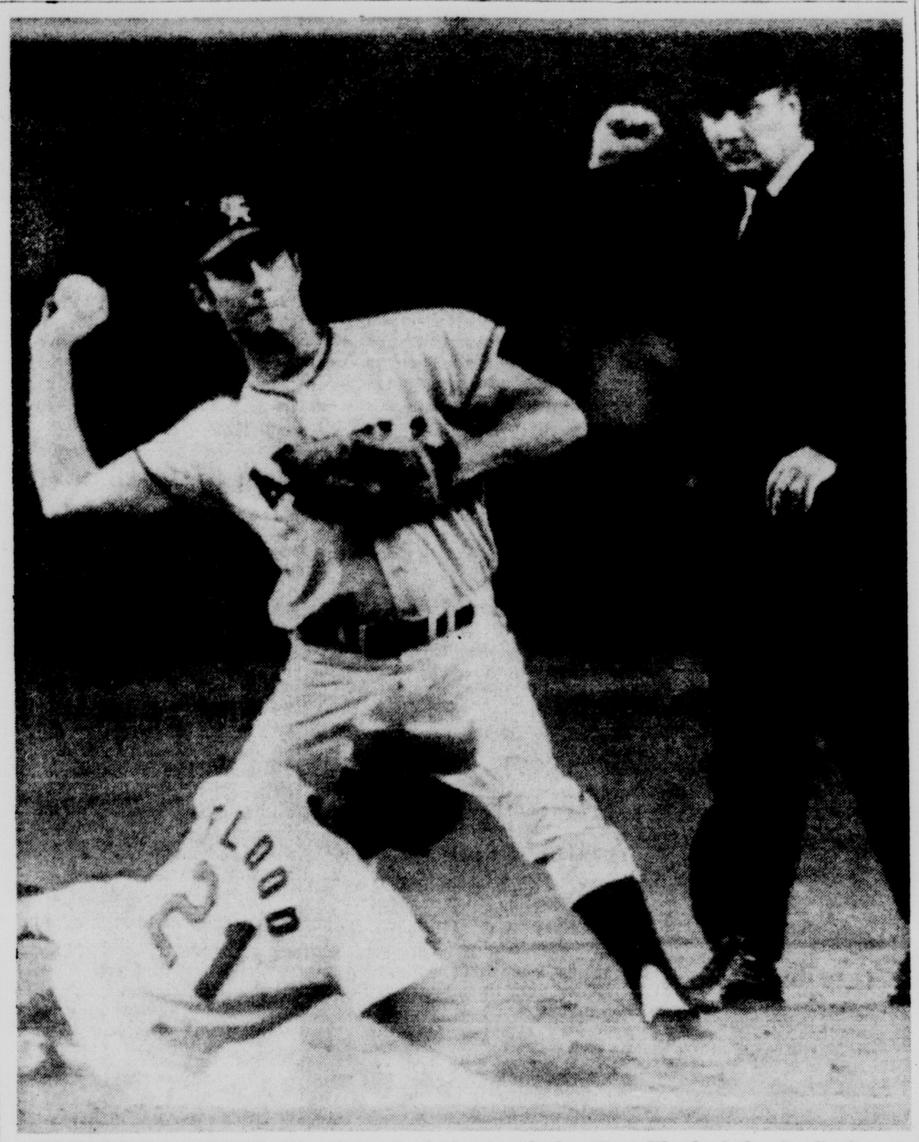
The Pirates have been inconsistent, but consistently have been disappointing their followers since 1960. Fans are getting fed up, and it's unlikely Pittsburgh will match its 1967 attendance, which wasn't that good.

ATTENDANCE over all is down in the majors, and is likely to remain down unless the Cardinals and Tigers do sudden folds and come back to the pack in the pennant races. Of course attendance is up in Detroit and St. Louis, though the Mets, playing far and away the best ball in their history, are leading the majors in attendance. But baseball interest is hardly dead, as shown by the fine crowd pulled by the ninth-place Cubs against the Pirates over the weekend.

The clubs need higher and higher attendance marks to break even. There are seven players reportedly making $100,000 a year or better, and 50 players at $50,000 a year or higher. The average salary, according to the Pirate front office, is over $25,000.

THAT INDIANS-CUBS deal turned out to be a bonanza for both teams. Lou Johnson has helped the Indians a lot and Willie Smith is hitting well for Chicago. Vic Davalillo, traded to the Angels, has come back to hurt Cleveland and Gabe Paul and Alvin Dark probably regret that swap for Jimmy Hall already.

Other deals made recently are not looking too good. Milt Pappas, dealt off by the Reds, compiled a 21-inning scoreless string before being routed Sunday. Denny Ribant has been effective for Detroit, while Dave Wickersham, whom the Pirates got for him, has been sent down. Juan Pizzaro, who for some reason was not used by the Pirates, has done well since joining the Red Sox.



DISASTROUS DOUBLE. Jim Fregosi of the Angels has Curt Flood of the Cardinals out and throws to first to complete a double play on Willie McCovey of the Giants, but Willie Mays scored from third as the double play was completed with what turned out to be the only run of the game. Umpire is Mel Steiner. Action took place in the first inning of the All-Star game in the Houston Astrodome last night. (UPI Telephoto)

1st-Inning Run Unearned

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Things happen when Willie Mays is on a baseball field and that as much as anything tells why the National League won its sixth straight All-Star Game against the Americans Tuesday night.

Wonderous Willie made the difference again, scoring the only run in the NL's 1-0 victory over the Americans in the 39th All-Star renewal held in the Astrodome.

They call the Dome the eighth wonder of the world but you'd have trouble convincing the American League that Willie doesn't deserve that designation instead of the indoor ball yard.

Mays managed to build a first-inning run and in this year of the pitcher one run often is all a team needs. It was all the Nationals needed with six pitchers sharing a three-hit, 11-strikeout performance against the frustrated Americans.

THE AL HITTERS hit only three fly balls all night and none to Mays' center field zone. But Willie fought the freezeout on the bases.

Mays' who only became a starter because Cincinnati's Pete Rose broke his thumb Saturday night, opened the game with a single against Cleveland's Luis Tiant.

He led off first and Tiant threw over to Harmon Killebrew. Mays stepped back, then again led away. Again Tiant tossed and this time, disaster.

"He said the ball moved," said Tiant, quotting Killebrew. "I guess it curved."

Mays thought it glanced off his back. At any rate, the ball eluded Killebrew and Mays took off for second.

Now Tiant turned his attention to Curt Flood, St. Louis' fine center fielder who was playing left because a fellow named Mays was in the NL line-up.

Tiant fell behind and on the fourth ball, he uncorked a wild pitch that flew high over catcher Bill Freehan's head.

TIANT SAID he crossed Freehan up on the pitch, delivering a high fastball when the catcher called for a low curve.

"It can happen a lot of times when you get a strange catcher working with a strange pitcher," said Dick Williams, manager of the American League team.

Mays moved to third and with Flood at first and none out, it looked like a big inning budding.

The AL played the infield back, hoping for the double play. Willie McCovey cracked a sharp shot on the synthetic astro turf right at second baseman Rod Carew.

Carew hesitated for a fleeting moment, but Mays already was bearing down on the plate, so the Minnesota infielder went for the double play. The AL didn't know it, but they had won the battle and lost the war.

"I had no idea one run would win it," said Mays. "I was just lucky enough to score the winning run."

THE HIT that started the rally was Mays' 23rd and the run he scored was his 20th in All-Star play—both records.

Now that they had their run, it was up to the NL pitchers to hold the edge. And they came through beautifully.

Don Drysdale permitted a leadoff double to Jim Fregosi and the AL didn't have another runner until Tony Oliva doubled against Tom Seaver with two out in the seventh.

Twenty batters went up and down in between against Drysdale, Juan Marichal, Steve Carl-

Pitchers Dominate

Low-Scoring Star Game Reflection Of Season

By B. F. KELLUM

HOUSTON (AP) — "Pitchers dominated the game as they have all season," said Red Schoendienst.

"There was great pitching on both sides," said Dick Williams. "But that's the way it has been all year."

So the opposing managers, Schoendienst of the Nationals and Williams of the Americans, saw eye to eye on what made the low-scoring 1968 All-Star Game turn out as it did Tuesday night.

There were other factors, too—a big one being Willie Mays' opening single and skippity hop base running that brought in the Nationals' only run in their 1-0 victory.

—:—

BUT IT WAS mainly a battle in which the All-Star pitchers had the All-Star hitters looking like they belonged on the awkward squad.

It was the Nationals' sixth straight All-Star victory.

Buckets of champagne were available in both dressing rooms but only the Nationals popped the corks.

However, the American Leaguers took the loss in stride. The only bitter player was Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins—and it wasn't the loss that bothered him.

Killebrew, the American League's first baseman suffered a severe hamstring pull in his left leg while stretching for a low throw from shortstop Jim Fregosi in the third inning.

In obvious pain as he dressed, Killebrew shrugged off most questions with "I'd rather not talk about it."

Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers, the starting and winning pitcher for the Nationals, said he relied mostly on the fast ball and slider.

—:—

"IT SEEMS like this is the year of the pitcher," he said. "This thing seems to run in cycles. I believe that in the World Series and in the All-Star games the pitchers have the advantage."

Juan Marichal of the San Francisco Giants, another National League hurler, said, "We had great pitching and great defense. That's a combination hard to beat."

Tom Seaver of the New York Mets said low scoring games have been the trend all year.

"Good pitching will overcome good hitting at all times," he said. "I didn't think there would be more than five runs scored in the ball game."

Williams said he wanted to use all 25 of his players and succeeded with the exception of Gary Bell, one of his own Red Sox pitchers. Bell was scheduled to pitch in the eighth but an American League double play ended the inning before he could appear.

Schoendienst, who predicted a low score at his pregame press conferences said. "In a game like this, the hitters don't see enough of the pitchers to get on to them."

Caruso Blanks Leetonia

East Liverpool Post 374 clinched a tie for the Columbiana County American Legion baseball league title with a 1-0, eight-inning win over Leetonia at the Colt League field last night.

East Liverpool is now 5-2 with two games to play. All the other teams have lost four games. After hosting a tough Steubenville team in an Ohio Valley game tonight, East Liverpool travels to Columbiana to play Leetonia tomorow night. A win there would clinch the title. Salem visits East Liverpool Friday.

Gary (Mike) Caruso was the winning pitcher last night, scattering four hits. Only two runners reached second and no one got to third. Conrad was almost so tough for Leetonia, yielding only five hits. Post 374 finally scored in the eighth when Sam Doughty was hit by a pitch. He was forced by Jerry Howell. Jim Duffy got a pinch-hit single and Caruso walked to load the bases. Bob Bartram singled to left for the winning run.

Rex Campbell and Conrad had doubled and Nicotera three hits.

Tom Chambers is sidelined with a lacerated wrist suffered in Sunday's loss to Cadiz. He is expected to return by next Sunday.

'25 Could Win It'

DeVincenzo Predicts Wide Open British Golf

By TOM REEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (AP) — Defending champion Roberto De Vincenzo teed off in the first round of the 72-hole British Open Golf Tournament today with the modest conviction that at 45 he has as good a chance as any in the 130-man field to win.

"I'm 12 to 1, the bookies say," the Argentine star said.

"But for my money everybody is 25 to 1. Any one of at least 25 can win it, Jack Nicklaus and all the others and me too, and so that makes all of us 25 to 1."

In fact, Nicklaus at 4 to 1 and Bill Casper at 5 to 1 appeared to be rather false favorites to master Carnoustie's 7,262-yard par-72 layout at such low odds.

A rapid shift in the weather put many of the golf stars in the running, including even some of the short hitters.

The North Sea winds which often turn Carnoustie into a tiger strangely were absent. Enough sun and overnight rain transformed the links into a sheer delight.

Rough, which some players regarded as unfair on about five holes, was cut back Tuesday to eliminate the possibility of a good shot being unfairly penalized.

The forecast was for favorable weather which could threaten Ben Hogan's 1953 record of 282 for 72 holes as well as his final round 58, as yet unbeaten in competition around Carnoustie.

After 18 holes today and another 18 Thursday, the field is cut to low 70 and ties. This again is cut back after 54 holes to the low 45 and ties with Saturday's final going for the biggest purse the British Open ever has offered in its 108-year history.

Prize money adds up to $48,000. The winner's check of $7,200 is small compared to American standards but the man who collects it knows he will have a bonanza of more than $100,000 in fringe benefits plus a special niche in golf's Hall of Fame.

One of the big question marks of the championship surrounded Arnold Palmer, 38-year-old Latrobe, Pa., millionaire who won the British Open in 1961 and 1962 and at any given moment is likely to explode into brilliance. He scruffed around Carnoustie Tuesday, all over the course and very unimpressive indeed.

It was hard to tell if Arnold is overtense or overgolfed or overrich. He doesn't know himself, he said.

Darrall Imhoff Balks At Chamberlain Deal

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia 76ers unloaded their costly, 7-foot-1 bundle of contract worries called Wilt Chamberlain Tuesday but may have picked up a low-priced 6-foot-10 package of the same in the form of Darrall Imhoff.

Imhoff, one-third of the manpower the Los Angeles Lakers had to ante up to get the National Basketball Association's all-time great scorer, says he's not ready to go to Philadelphia.

The eight-year NBA veteran, contacted in Los Angeles Tuesday, said he has "a lot of problems" to work out, adding: "I'm a little disappointed about leaving the Lakers since Los Angeles is my home."

He said: "I have been in contact with the general manager at Philadelphia and General Manager Fred Schaus of the Lakers. I'll take a lot of time and think it over."

His statement appeared to contradict 76ers' General Manager Jack Ramsay, who said in announcing the trade for Imhoff, forward Jerry Chambers and guard Archie Clark:

"Our three players are contracted and the Lakers have negotiated with Wilt and reached satisfactory agreement."

Imhoff, a starter with the Lakers, might also find it difficult beating out Chamberlain's understudy, 6-foot-9 Luke Jackson, for the pivot spot with the 76ers.

All this gives rise to speculation that Imhoff may be asking the 76ers to trade him to a team nearer Los Angeles, where he says he has business interests and is still involved in an off-season ticket selling program for the Lakers.

For the 76ers, negotiating a contract with Chamberlain had become a yearly summer ritual whose settings changed with jetliner speed from Philadelphia, to California surf to a sweaty gym in Atlantic City, N.J., where the pro team held its preseason tuneups.

After reportedly earning $250,000 for the 1967-68 season, Chamberlain reached a contract impasse with the 76ers this spring.

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The Indians are running 80,000 ahead of their attendance pace of last season, the Pirates 100,000 behind.

The reasons are obvious. Cleveland has its best shot at the pennant since 1959. It looks like the team will not fold. And, while the Tigers may have an unbeatable lead, the Tribe is playing exciting, winning baseball, and should continue to draw the fans.

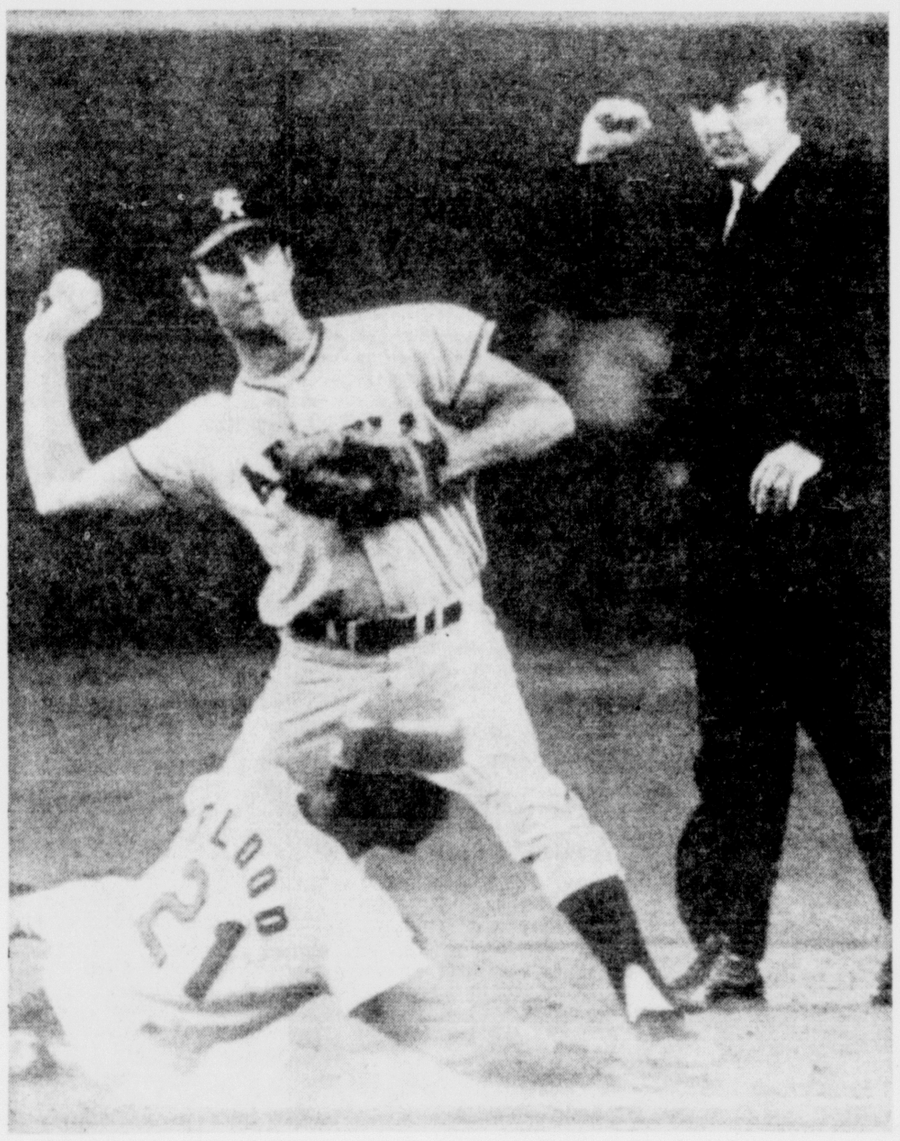
The Pirates have been inconsistent, but consistently have been disappointing their followers since 1960. Fans are getting fed up, and it's unlikely Pittsburgh will match its 1967 attendance, which wasn't that good.

ATTENDANCE over all is down in the majors, and is likely to remain down unless the Cardinals and Tigers do sudden folds and come back to the pack in the pennant races. Of course attendance is up in Detroit and St. Louis, though the Mets, playing far and away the best ball in their history, are leading the majors in attendance. But baseball interest is hardly dead, as shown by the fine crowd pulled by the ninth-place Cubs against the Pirates over the weekend.

The clubs need higher and higher attendance marks to break even. There are seven players reportedly making $100,000 a year or better, and 50 players at $50,000 a year or higher. The average salary, according to the Pirate front office, is over $25,000.

THAT INDIANS-CUBS deal turned out to be a bonanza for both teams. Lou Johnson has helped the Indians a lot and Willie Smith is hitting well for Chicago. Vic Davalillo, traded to the Angels, has come back to hurt Cleveland and Gabe Paul and Alvin Dark probably regret that swap for Jimmy Hall already.

Other deals made recently are not looking too good. Milt Pappas, dealt off by the Reds, compiled a 21-inning scoreless string before being routed Sunday. Denny Ribant has been effective for Detroit, while Dave Wickersham, whom the Pirates got for him, has been sent down. Juan Pizzaro, who for some reason was not used by the Pirates, has done well since joining the Red Sox.



DISASTROUS DOUBLE. Jim Fregosi of the Angels has Curt Flood of the Cardinals out and throws to first to complete a double play on Willie McCovey of the Giants, but Willie Mays scored from third as the double play was completed with what turned out to be the only run of the game. Umpire is Mel Steiner. Action took place in the first inning of the All-Star game in the Houston Astrodome last night. (UPI Telephoto)

Pitchers Dominate

Low-Scoring Star Game Reflection Of Season

By B. F. KELLUM

HOUSTON (AP) — "Pitchers dominated the game as they have all season," said Red Schoendienst.

"There was great pitching on both sides," said Dick Williams. "But that's the way it has been all year."

So the opposing managers, Schoendienst of the Nationals and Williams of the Americans, saw eye to eye on what made the low - scoring 1968 All-Star Game turn out as it did Tuesday night.

There were other factors, too —a big one being Willie Mays' opening single and skippity hop base running that brought in the Nationals' only run in their 1-0 victory.

—:—

BUT IT WAS mainly a battle in which the All-Star pitchers had the All-Star hitters looking like they belonged on the awkward squad.

It was the Nationals' sixth straight All-Star victory.

Buckets of champagne were available in both dressing rooms but only the Nationals popped the corks.

However, the American Leaguers took the loss in stride. The only bitter player was Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins—and it wasn't the loss that bothered him.

1st-Inning Run Unearned

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Things happen when Willie Mays is on a baseball field and that as much as anything tells why the National League won its sixth straight All-Star Game against the Americans Tuesday night.

Wonderous Willie made the difference again, scoring the only run in the NL's 1-0 victory over the Americans in the 39th All - Star renewal held in the Astrodome.

They call the Dome the eighth wonder of the world but you'd have trouble convincing the American League that Willie doesn't deserve that designation instead of the indoor ball yard.

Mays managed to build a first-inning run and in this year of the pitcher one run often is all a team needs. It was all the Nationals needed with six pitchers sharing a three - hit, 11-strikeout performance against the frustrated Americans.

THE AL HITTERS hit only three fly balls all night and none to Mays' center field zone. But Willie fought the freezeout on the bases.

Mays' who only became a starter because Cincinnati's Pete Rose broke his thumb Saturday night, opened the game with a single against Cleveland's Luis Tiant.

He led off first and Tiant threw over to Harmon Killebrew. Mays stepped back, then again led away. Again Tiant tossed and this time, disaster.

"He said the ball moved," said Tiant, quotting Killebrew. "I guess it curved."

Mays thought it glanced off his back. At any rate, the ball eluded Killebrew and Mays took off for second.

Now Tiant turned his attention to Curt Flood, St. Louis' fine center fielder who was playing left because a fellow named Mays was in the NL line-up.

Tiant fell behind and on the fourth ball, he uncorked a wild pitch that flew high over catcher Bill Freehan's head.

TIANT SAID he crossed Freehan up on the pitch, delivering a high fastball when the catcher called for a low curve.

"It can happen a lot of times when you get a strange catcher working with a strange pitcher," said Dick Williams, manager of the American League team.

Mays moved to third and with Flood at first and none out, it looked like a big inning budding.

The AL played the infield back, hoping for the double play. Willie McCovey cracked a sharp shot on the synthetic astro turf right at second baseman Rod Carew.

Carew hesitated for a fleeting moment, but Mays already was bearing down on the plate, so the Minnesota infielder went for the double play. The AL didn't know it, but they had won the battle and lost the war.

"I had no idea one run would win it," said Mays. "I was just lucky enough to score the winning run."

THE HIT that started the rally was Mays' 23rd and the run he scored was his 20th in All-Star play—both records.

Now that they had their run, it was up to the NL pitchers to hold the edge. And they came through beautifully.

Don Drysdale permitted a leadoff double to Jim Fregosi and the AL didn't have another runner until Tony Oliva doubled against Tom Seaver with two out in the seventh.

Twenty batters went up and down in between against Drysdale, Juan Marichal, Steve Carl-

Hustle Of Willie Mays Key To All-Star Win

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Hustle won Tuesday night's All-Star baseball game and hustle has always been the trademark of 37-year-old Willie Mays.

Mays sat slumped in the National League dressing room and told how he scored the only run of the game in a pitcher-dominated 39th All-Star battle.

For Mays, the San Francisco great, he was almost solemn. He scarcely smiled.

As the leadoff batter for the National League, in the first inning, Mays drilled a grounder between the hole at third base and shortstop.

He started his fancy dan jigging off first base and this seemed to make the American League starter, Luis Tiant of Cleveland, nervous.

Tiant lobbed over a throw.

Mays took another lead off. Tiant whirled and threw hard to first.

"The ball glanced off my back and I saw the first baseman (Harmon Killebrew) wasn't going to be able to handle it, so I took off," Mays said.

Mays dashed to third moments later on a wild pitch that also walked Curt Flood of St. Louis.

Then Willie McCovey of San Francisco hit a hot shot off the hard synthetic turf to AL second baseman Rod Carew of Minnesota. Mays put his head down and bolted for the plate. Carew looked to home and decided to go for the double play.

"I had no idea one run would win it," said Mays. "I was just lucky enough to score the winning run."

Mays is so lucky he has scored a record 20 runs in All-Star competition. May's single, his 23rd All-Star hit, also is a record. Mays is lucky?

Willie Mays

He was named Tuesday night's Most Valuable Player.

Asked how he felt about setting All - Star records, Mays said, "Damned fine."

"I'm glad I was able to score the winning run," Mays said. "I wasn't supposed to play."

Mays, the captain of the National League, wasn't picked on the starting team in his 15th All-Star Game.

Then Pete Rose of Cincinnati broke a thumb, leaving a spot in the starting outfield.

Mays refused to downgrade the AL although it was losing its sixth game in a row in the series.

"They played a helluva game," Mays said. "We didn't exactly kil lthem, 1-0."

But this was a game won with feet, not the bat. And No. 24, one of the greatest home run hitters of all time, still can pick 'em up and lay 'em down.

Injuries Hit Bengals Early Training

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — "These are just kids. They have learned a lot of football in college, but they really know so little for the league they'll be playing in now—if they make it."

That's the assessment of Coach - General Manager Paul Brown of the Cincinnati Bengals after three days of rookie drills. Tuesday, four more players were cut from the squad, another placed on the disabled list, and four suffered injuries.

Defensive end Steve Lewicke, El Paso, Tex., was sidelined indefinitely with a kidney infection.

Released were linebacker Jim Bivins of Texas Southern; offensive end Ken Jones of Indiana; Wally Scott of Arizona and Dennis Whitehead of Miami (Ohio) University, both defensive backs.

Brown's other problems are the injuries.

Tackle Ed Brantley of North Texas State, knocked unconscious in a pass protection drill, was hospitalized overnight in Wilmington.

Flanker Joe Mira of Miami, Fla., twisted a knee and All-American defensive end Bill Staley from Utah State reinjured the shoulder which bothered him last season. Warren McVea, a flanker from Houston, report for practice because of a leg injury.

"We had a tough day," Brown said.

But we got a lot accomplished. We are still looking, and looking again, before we simmer down."

The "simmering" ends Thursday morning for the rookies and the quarterbacks when they wind up their exclusive session.

The next day the players acquired from other American Football League clubs take the field.

NFL Training Camps Open Only For Rookies

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — National Football League owners, refusing to buckle to additional player pension demands, Tuesday kept their camps closed to veterans but opened the doors for further negotiations.

The owners said their training camps would remain closed unless the Players Association permits all veterans to report but added the camps would be open to rookies for tryout purposes.

They also announced they would attempt to fulfill preseason game commitments "on the assumption that clubs have an adequate number of players, properly conditioned and prepared to play."

Art Modell, owner of the Cleveland Browns and president of the NFL, left the door ajar for further talks by saying, "We will be available to meet with the Players Association anytime to arrive at a mutual agreement."

Modell called the emergency meeting of owners Monday night after negotiations between the Players Association and NFL owners' representatives broke down earlier in the day.

The players want an immediate hike in their pension fund while the owners want to hold off until 1970 when the merger with the American Football League is complete.

At the completion of the meeting, Modell said the owners are prepared to continue negotiations and were in touch with the players' attorney, Dan Shulman of Chicago.

Modell said the owners were unanimous in affirming their negotiation committee's rejection of "the union's unrealistic demands on pensions.

"They took this action in view of the many uncertainties affecting pensions that cannot be determined until 1970." said Modell. "Thus, as the union has repeatedly been told, the owners will not be in position to conclude pension negotiations until the merger with the American Football League is completed in 1970."

Packers In Milwaukee Open Pro-Am

MILWAUKE, Wis. (AP) — The $200,000 Greater Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament opens with a pro-amateur match today, but even the presence of many of the country's top golfers won't push football out of the picture in Wisconsin.

Among the 100 amateurs scheduled to tee off are Green Bay Packer General Manager Vince Lombardi and nine members of his world champion Dave Robinson, defensive end Lionel Aldridge and defensive back Willie Wood.

The 50 pro golfers, entered include Tom Weiskopf, second leading money winner on the PGA tour and winner of last week's Buick Open, and U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino.

The 144 golfers get down to serious business Thursday, shooting for the $40,000 first prize in the tournament — which offers the second largest purse on the tour.

Lombardi will hit the first ball in the pro-am. He will tour the course with Lionel Hebert. Other pros entered today include Tom Aaron, Bob Goalby, Doug Ford, Bobby Nichols, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Al Geiberger, Julius Boros, Don January and Sam Snead.

Vince Cazzetta May Not Coach Next Year

PITTSBIRLH (AP) — The champion Pittsburgh Pipers may not have Vince Cazzetta as head coach in Minneapolis when the American Basketball Association season begins.

Cazzetta, according to the Pittsburgh Post - Gazette Tuesday night, wants a pay hike after coaching the Pipers to the ABA crown.

Cazzetta said Vern Mikkelsen, general manager of the Pipers, refused to give him a pay hike.

"Mikkelsen called me at home," Cazzetta said, "and wanted a definite answer on my intentions. I told him I would not go to Minneapolis at the same financial arrangements I had in Pittsburgh the past season.

"I am working on two other propositions, one in the promotion end of pro basketball, and the other outside the game," he said. "And I hope one or the other turns up. I'm sort of hanging tough."

Cazzetta said his contract with the Pipers runs for two years but contends that selling a portion of the club to Minneapolis interests and moving it from Pittsburgh has voided the agreement.

Gary White Wins State Jaycee Golf

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Both players fell apart on the first hole of a sudden death playoff Tuesday when the Ohio Boys Jaycee Golf Tournament ended in a tie for top spot at the end of regulation play.

But Gary White of McConnelsville salvaged a win with a bogey five, defeating Ken Stone of North Canton, who fired a double bogey six.

White and Stone had completed two rounds over the par 72 Ohio State University course with four-over-par 148.

Finishing third was Dick Errick of Bucyrus with 149.

Steve Groves of Lancaster and Mark Frederick of North Olmstead tied for fourth at 151 and also went into a sudden death playoff. That contest also ended on the first extra hole with Groves shooting a par 4 and Frederick a double bogey 6.

The low four senior scorers captured positions in the International Jaycee Junior Tournament next month in Tulsa, Okla.

Mike Morrow of Cuyahoga Falls won the championship in the 13 to 15 - year - old bracket with a 154. He was followed by Dan Nicolet of Lima, 155, and Steve Fife of Findlay, 159.

Lewis, Cowan Lead Ohio Amateur Golf

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It was do-or-die today for most of the players in the Ohio Golf Association's 62nd annual State Amateur Championship at Columbus Country Club.

The field of 203 golfers was to be cut after today's second round to the low 60 scores and ties for the final two rounds Thursday and Friday.

Leading the pack after Tuesday's opening round were Bob Lewis of Warren and John Cowan of Springfield. Both shot one-under par 71s.

Defending champion Lalu Zabotin of Warren was well behind the leaders with a 76.

Players found the 6,851-yard course playing long Tuesday. Four holes were covered by water during spring flooding and some fairways and greens are still soggy. Many greens are very slow.

Baseball Owners Seek Uniformity

HOUSTON (AP) — American League and National League owners meet in separate sessions here today that could lead to a uniform arrangement in schedules and divisional play for the 1969 baseball season.

Both leagues expand to 12 teams next year with Seattle and Kansas City granted AL franchises and San Diego and Montreal accepted in the NL.

The fly in the ointment is that the AL has decided to split its 12 into two geographical divisions of six teams each and play a 156-game schedule with postseason playoffs before the World Series.

The National has thus far refused a divisional split and is sticking to a single 12-team league with a 162-game schedule.

Commissioner William D. Eckert and baseball's executive council have urged the Nationals to reconsider and it's possible that today's meeting will produce the change.

But the Nationals aren't willing to give up easily. They are willing to accept the divisional concept already adopted by the American League only if the Americans agree to a 162-game schedule instead of 156.

Callison Has First Round Publinx Lead

DALLAS (AP) — A group of youthful contenders took off in pursuit of defending champion Verne Callison of Sacramento, Calif., today in the first round of the National Public Links Golf Tournament.

At least three young amateurs, including ailing Arnold Salinas of Dallas, were given chances to unseat Callison for the title over the treacherous 6,800-yard Tenison East course.

Former professional golfer Gene Towery, who has been reinstated as a amateur, also is rated among the favorites, along with 17-year-old Rodney Allen and Louisiana State University sophomore Tom Evans.

The youngsters have been projected into the title picture partly because of their familiarity with the rugged Tenison East course, where about three inches of grass was sheered off its rough Monday at the instruction of U.S. Golf Association officials.

Allen has posted a one-under-par 69 on the tree and water-cluttered course and Salinas learned his trade on the same course alongside new U.S. Open champ Lee Trevino.

Salinas, however, has been plagued with a virus and may not be at full strength.

Hustle Of Willie Mays Key To All-Star Win

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Hustle won Tuesday night's All-Star baseball game and hustle has always been the trademark of 37-year-old Willie Mays.

Mays sat slumped in the National League dressing room and told how he scored the only run of the game in a pitcher-dominated 39th All-Star battle.

For Mays, the San Francisco great, he was almost solemn. He scarcely smiled.

As the leadoff batter for the National League, in the first inning, Mays drilled a grounder between the hole at third base and shortstop.

He started his fancy dan jigging off first base and this seemed to make the American League starter, Luis Tiant of Cleveland, nervous.

Tiant lobbed over a throw.

Mays took another lead off. Tiant whirled and threw hard to first.

"The ball glanced off my back and I saw the first baseman (Harmon Killebrew) wasn't going to be able to handle it, so I took off," Mays said.

Lewis, Cowan Lead Ohio Amateur Golf

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It was do-or-die today for most of the players in the Ohio Golf Association's 62nd annual State Amateur Championship at Columbus Country Club.

The field of 203 golfers was to be cut after today's second round to the low 60 scores and ties for the final two rounds Thursday and Friday.

Leading the pack after Tuesday's opening round were Bob Lewis of Warren and John Cowan of Springfield. Both shot one-under par 71s.

Defending champion Lalu Zabotin of Warren was well behind the leaders with a 76.

Players found the 6,851-yard course playing long Tuesday. Four holes were covered by water during spring flooding and some fairways and greens are still soggy. Many greens are very slow.

Baseball Owners Seek Uniformity

HOUSTON (AP) — American League and National League owners meet in separate sessions here today that could lead to a uniform arrangement in schedules and divisional play for the 1969 baseball season.

Both leagues expand to 12 teams next year with Seattle and Kansas City granted AL franchises and San Diego and Montreal accepted in the NL.

The fly in the ointment is that the AL has decided to split its 12 into two geographical divisions of six teams each and play a 156-game schedule with postseason playoffs before the World Series.

The National has thus far refused a divisional split and is sticking to a single 12-team league with a 162-game schedule.

Commissioner William D. Eckert and baseball's executive council have urged the Nationals to reconsider and it's possible that today's meeting will produce the change.

But the Nationals aren't willing to give up easily. They are willing to accept the divisional concept already adopted by the American League only if the Americans agree to a 162-game schedule instead of 156.

ton and Seaver. There was another two out double in the eighth by Don Wert and nothing more.

Seaver struck out five batters in two innings and in the last three innings of the game seven of the nine American League batters retired went down on strikes. Ron Reed and Jerry Koosman shared the ninth, fanning two between them.

American League hurlers were almost as sharp, allowing just five hits and striking out nine. But Mays' first-inning run made the difference.

Waterford Double Pays $582.20

Calson, $53.80 upset winner of the first race at Waterford Park last night, combined with Billy Ford the horse for a $582.20 daily double.

There were 27 $2 tickets sold on the lucky 10-2 combination, and there was a solitary $10 ticket sold which was worth $2,911.

And, while the result thrilled the moon shooters in the ladies night crowd, there were some very disappointed fans, even though they were few in number.

Billy Ford beat out Gen. Simon and the fast - closing McCray's Bird at the end of the six-furlong dash.

Had Gen. Simon won, the daily double would have paid $2,661.60 for each $2 ticket. But, had McCray's Bird managed to get up in time, the daily double would have been a nearly unbelievable $4,658.

Gary Gillespie was up on Calson, a stretch runner who was along in the very last stride to nip Gay Sadie in the opener.

ton and Seaver. There was another two out double in the eighth by Don Wert and nothing more.

Seaver struck out five batters in two innings and in the last three innings of the game seven of the nine American League batters retired went down on strikes. Ron Reed and Jerry Koosman shared the ninth, fanning two between them.

American League hurlers were almost as sharp, allowing just five hits and striking out nine. But Mays' first-inning run made the difference.

Waterford Double Pays $582.20

Calson, $53.80 upset winner of the first race at Waterford Park last night, combined with Billy Ford the horse for a $582.20 daily double.

There were 27 $2 tickets sold on the lucky 10-2 combination, and there was a solitary $10 ticket sold which was worth $2,911.

And, while the result thrilled the moon shooters in the ladies night crowd, there were some very disappointed fans, even though they were few in number.

Billy Ford beat out Gen. Simon and the fast - closing McCray's Bird at the end of the six-furlong dash.

Had Gen. Simon won, the daily double would have paid $2,661.60 for each $2 ticket. But, had McCray's Bird managed to get up in time, the daily double would have been a nearly unbelievable $4,658.

Gary Gillespie was up on Calson, a stretch runner who was along in the very last stride to nip Gay Sadie in the opener.

Carlos Urzua, the boy from Chile, was aboard Bill Ford.

Vaccine Can End Measles Hazard

The measles vaccine which will be administered at five Columbiana County clinics Sunday afternoon was developed by a medical research team headed by Dr. John Enders of Harvard Medical School.

Physicians had long sought cures and prevention of the childhood disease which today is the number one killer and crippler of children.

The danger of the disease is underscored by the medical profession as a need to have children from one to 12-years-old given the vaccine at the clinics sponsored by the County Medical Society, the Auxiliary and the county Board of Health.

The clinics will be held from noon until 5 p. m. at the Westgate School in East Liverpool, the McKinley School in Lisbon, Salem High School, Capt. Taggart School at East Palestine and the Salineville Grade School.

Dr. Alexander Fisher of East Liverpool and Mrs. Susan Ulicny of Salem are in charge. Nurses and volunteers will assist.

ANCIENT SORCERERS prescribed various charms, rites and prayers to special gods to "drive out" the rash; early American physicians favored warm baths and sweating and drawing plasters; some Indians immersed infected children in water in hopes of washing off the measles rash; and one tribe even dusted infected children with ashes to soothe the irritation.

Because of the unpredictability and highly infectious nature of measles, however, doctors have long realized that the solution to the measles problem lies not in its treatment, but in its prevention and ultimate eradication.

It wasn't until 1954, when Drs. Enders and Thomas Peebles of Harvard Medical School succeeded in culturing measles virus from the blood and throat washings of an 11-year-old boy named David Edmonston, that the way was opened toward development of a practical, effective measles vaccine.

The virus, at first, could be made to grow in laboratory cultures of monkey and human kidney tissue. Its presence could be demonstrated by the pathologic changes it caused in these cells.

Dr. Enders and his associates subsequently grew the Edmonston strain in 24 successive cultures of human kidney tissue and then in 28 serial cultures of human amnion.

AT THIS TIME, the chicken played its first prominent role in the measels vaccine story, a role it is still playing today. The two Harvard scientists managed to adapt the vaccine to fertilized hens' eggs, and finally to single - layer cultures of chick-embryo cells.

The virus grew rapidly on chick - embryo tissue cultures. And, after a number of passages in the eggs and embryo cultures, tests showed that the virus of the infecting agent had been weakened, rendering it safe for use in humans.

When given in 1958 to children who had not had measles, the attenuated virus produced significant development of measles antibodies. Thus, the Enders group succeeded in developing an attenuated - virus vaccine that promised to put an end to the search for an effective protective agent.

Subsequent clinical trials indicated that permanent immunity may be attained with one injection of the live - attenuated vaccine. The only problem that remained was that of producing the vaccine in sufficient quantities to deter the disease but yet in desired quality so as to permit safe administration to young children. Elaborate control procedures were necessary to produce vaccine of high potency and unquestioned safety.

AGAIN, THE chicken played a prominent role. Through the cooperation of a West Coast poultry breeder, special disease-free chickens were provided from a rare experimental flock.

The chickens and their offspring are used to produce germ-free embryos on which to grow the measles virus. The entire process is carried out under germ - free conditions comparable to those of a modern hospital operating room.

It takes 137 days to produce measles vaccine and about 96 of these are devoted to quality control testing.

Every batch of vaccine is tested in embryonated eggs and by several inoculation methods in animals, including suckling mice, rhesus monkeys, and grivet monkeys.

Victory over a virus was made possible by the teamwork of scientists, doctors, and production experts. "However, still another member must be added to that team if the victory is to be complete — the parents." Dr. Fisher said.

"Why parents? It is the parents that truly hold the key to eradication of this dread disease. If parents act now and have their children vaccinated by their family physician, we can stamp out this dread killer in a relatively short time. How soon we see the end of measles in our country depends on them."

85 Injured As Tent Falls

State Police said 24 persons were hospitalized, mostly with broken limbs. One person suffered a broken jaw.

About 800 persons were in the tent before the storm began, but many left because of the heavy rain and winds. The tent can hold 4,000.

Two dozen of the injured were admitted to hospitals. Others were treated at the scene or discharged from hospitals after treatment.

The 300-foot-long tent was the scene of a performance by the Clyde-Beatty-Cole Brothers Circus in this Finger Lakes city.

Yule Tree Growers Will Meet Thursday

LISBON — Directors of the eastern Ohio Christmas tree growers will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Cooperative Extension Service Office on S. Market St.

The major item of business will be program planning for the year, according to Paul C. Gipp, Columbiana County extension agent for agriculture.

Congress created the Bureau of Standards in 1901.

Health Commissioner Urges Caution In Handling Food

LISBON — "When in doubt about the freshness of food, throw it out," advises Dr. M. K. Singer, Columbiana County health commissioner.

Caution in handling and preparing foods, especially when feeding large groups, is most important, he emphasized.

He said the greatest number of reported outbreaks of illnesses associated with food last year occurred in homes. The largest number of persons who reportedly suffered from illness associated with food were those who had eaten at banquets or other gatherings. Beef, pork, turkey and fish were most often involved, but all kinds of foods were listed as possible sources of sickness.

DR. SINGER said illness could have been prevented in most cases by following basic handling and preparation procedures. He suggested that those responsible for food at picnics and parties learn how to identify and avoid spoiled and contaminated foods.

He explained that most meats, including fish, shrimp and fowl, had a disagreeable odor when they are spoiled or contaminated. In addition, uncooked fish meat that pulls away easily from bones, dressed fowl that is sticky to the touch and beef, pork and similar fresh meats that become slimy are considered unusable as food.

Look for white to grayish powdery deposits when preparing raw fruits and vegetables, Dr. Singer said. These may indicate the presence of agricultural chemicals that could be harmful. They should be washed off the food completely before preparing it.

A good test for canned foods is to look at the tops and bottoms of cans to see if they have "swelled out into dome-like shapes." This usually means the contents have spoiled, Dr. Singer said.

—:—

POPULAR salad spreads, such as those made from chicken, egg, tuna and ham, must be kept refrigerated until ready to eat. Similarly, custard - filled pastries and some cold cuts need constant refrigeration as protection against the growth of potentially harmful organisms.

A good point to remember is that foods which are refrigerated when purchased should be kept refrigerated until eaten, the doctor said.

Leftover foods should be examined completely before serving for unnatural odor, visible growth of mold and unusual appearance. Refrigeration below 40 degrees Fahrenheit will help retard spoilage of leftovers, but for safety such foods should be cooked again before eating.

Personal cleanliness is a must in food preparation, the doctor stressed. Clean hands and clean clothes are recommended. A person with open cuts or scratches should not be permitted to handle and prepare foods, he added.

DR. SINGER said illness could have been prevented in most cases by following basic handling and preparation procedures. He suggested that those responsible for food at picnics and parties learn how to identify and avoid spoiled and contaminated foods.

He explained that most meats, including fish, shrimp and fowl, had a disagreeable odor when they are spoiled or contaminated. In addition, uncooked fish meat that pulls away easily from bones, dressed fowl that is sticky to the touch and beef, pork and similar fresh meats that become slimy are considered unusable as food.

Look for white to grayish powdery deposits when preparing raw fruits and vegetables, Dr. Singer said. These may indicate the presence of agricultural chemicals that could be harmful. They should be washed off the food completely before preparing it.

A good test for canned foods is to look at the tops and bottoms of cans to see if they have "swelled out into dome-like shapes." This usually means the contents have spoiled, Dr. Singer said.

—:—

POPULAR salad spreads, such as those made from chicken, egg, tuna and ham, must be kept refrigerated until ready to eat. Similarly, custard - filled pastries and some cold cuts need constant refrigeration as protection against the growth of potentially harmful organisms.

A good point to remember is that foods which are refrigerated when purchased should be kept refrigerated until eaten, the doctor said.

Leftover foods should be examined completely before serving for unnatural odor, visible growth of mold and unusual appearance. Refrigeration below 40 degrees Fahrenheit will help retard spoilage of leftovers, but for safety such foods should be cooked again before eating.

Personal cleanliness is a must in food preparation, the doctor stressed. Clean hands and clean clothes are recommended. A person with open cuts or scratches should not be permitted to handle and prepare foods, he added.

85 Injured As Tent Falls

State Police said 24 persons were hospitalized, mostly with broken limbs. One person suffered a broken jaw.

About 800 persons were in the tent before the storm began, but many left because of the heavy rain and winds. The tent can hold 4,000.

Two dozen of the injured were admitted to hospitals. Others were treated at the scene or discharged from hospitals after treatment.

The 300-foot-long tent was the scene of a performance by the Clyde-Beatty-Cole Brothers Circus in this Finger Lakes city.

Make Fence Of Hangers

DEAR HELOISE: Here's an idea for a temporary, yet attractive little fence to keep pets and small children out of newly planted gardens and flower beds. . .

Heloise

Nearly all of us have plenty of wire clothes hangers around the house. Gather a bunch and, hanging onto the hook part of each, pull it into a diamond shape, then straighten out the hooks.

Wire or tie each hanger together forming as long a "fence" as you'll need. Then just push the straightened hooks into the ground.

This hanger fence is easy to lengthen or shorten by just adding or taking off as many hangers as you wish. It can be used over and over and even folded up for storage.

I used white hangers so my fence would be easier to see and no one would trip over it.

BERNIE BRUCE.

Terrific! And if you have only black wire hangers, tie them together with brightly colored plastic bread wires to make your fence more easily noticed.

Thanks, Bernie for your clever idea. I'm gonna run right out and fix one of my new flower bed to keep our little doggie out.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a little hint my milkman gave me.

He said when storing cottage cheese, store the container upside down and it's more delicious that way. It not only keeps the air out, but when you open the container and spoon some out, the top part is moist.

I used to hate the very words cottage cheese, but have been forced to eat it daily due to health reasons and do you know what? I've even come to really like it

A GOOD FRIEND.

DEAR HELOISE: I have been a legal secretary for years and have found that the problem of crusty elbows is common to gals who work at a desk. We have a million and one things on our desks, including carbon which is very drying to the skin. And it's more or less futile trying to keep our elbows off the desk.

I've tried everything-imaginable to soften my elbows when I had a bad case of chapped lips, I wonder how lip balm would work on my elbows.

Well, wonders never cease. Not only did the black, carbon-encrusted elbows become lily white, but they became the soft "skin you love to touch."

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Did you hear about the mother who removed the belt to her little boy's trousers as soon as they stepped into the grocery store? Then she had no worries about him pulling things off the shelves because he was busy holding his pants up

ANOTHER MOTHER.

DEAR HELOISE: When hemming things which have lace to be added on the edge, I always turn the tiny hem up on the RIGHT side (especially linens) and put the lace on top of that.

Makes a neat hem and finish on both sides.

Your name might be Dora, but you sure aren't dumb.

DEAR HELOIS: We have a high-riser bed that fits under our girl's single bed to be used when we have visitors. Now it is leading a new life.

Our son just turned four, so we took down the crib and gave the high-riser. It stays in the "up" position during the day. But at night we lower it for him to sleep on so he won't hurt himself if he rolls off.

Doesn't this seem like a revolutionary idea for children's beds?

Abel To Talk To Reporters

PITTSBURGH (AP) — United Steelworkers President I. W. Abel has promised to talk to reporters following a meeting tonight of The United Steelworkers Union's Eleven Company Advisory Committee.

The committee will review the progress on negotiations for a new labor contract for the basic steel industry.

A news blackout has prevented any word on progress between the union and the 11 largest steel companies.

Tonight's appearance will be Abel's first before reporters since the negotiators moved to Pittsburgh June 24th. Negotiators have been working toward an Aug. 1 deadline when the present contract expires.

Higher pension, earlier retirement and a cost of living clause are some of the concessions union members want from management.

Abel To Talk To Reporters

PITTSBURGH (AP) — United Steelworkers President I. W. Abel has promised to talk to reporters following a meeting tonight of The United Steelworkers Union's Eleven Company Advisory Committee.

The committee will review the progress on negotiations for a new labor contract for the basic steel industry.

A news blackout has prevented any word on progress between the union and the 11 largest steel companies.

Tonight's appearance will be Abel's first before reporters since the negotiators moved to Pittsburgh June 24th. Negotiators have been working toward an Aug. 1 deadline when the present contract expires.

Higher pension, earlier retirement and a cost of living clause are some of the concessions union members want from management.

Drive Continues Against Smoking

LISBON — The American Cancer Society's continuing campaign to discourage smoking among young people reached 328,498 youths in Ohio during the past school year, reports Galen Greenisen of Salem, president of the Columbiana County unit.

Audiences ranged from primary grades through high school. They were shown films dealing with the harmful effects of tobacco. Greenisen said 9,739 county students viewed one or more of them during the 1967-68 school year.

ACS is giving special attention to the teen - age group, Greenisen said. "We try to present the smoking problem to young people in terms they understand. Our aim is to discourage them from taking up the habit or, if they have started, we urge them to stop before it is too late."

Dates Changed For Presentation Of Group's Play

New production dates for the three-act comedy "Never too Late" were set during a meeting Tuesday of the Ceramic Playrites in the Liberty Theater at Wellsville.

Tom Henthorn, director, said the dates have been changed to Aug. 22-24 due to unforeseen casting difficulties.

James Graham, president, said living room furniture is still needed for the play and donations of old furniture will be appreciated. Anyone wishing to make a contribution may contact Lida Smith of Kountz Ave., Wellsville, Graham added.

The next meeting will be Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the theater.

Janitorial Workers To End 10-Day Strike

CINCINNATI (AP) — Fifty-two janitorial and maintenance workers of the Metropolitan Housing Authority were expected to report for work this morning after voting to end their 10-day strike over union recognition.

Decision to return to their jobs at 19 housing projects came Tuesday shortly after Common Pleas Judge Robert V. Wood issued a temporary injunction against picketing by the strikers.

MHA officials contended the walkout created health and safety problems and said city garbage collectors refused to cross the picket lines.

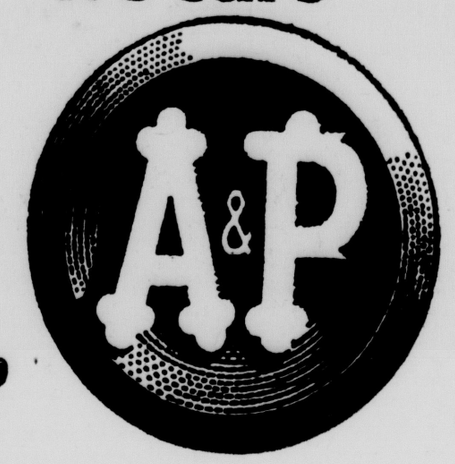
we care



a lot of your neighbors have stopped baking pies!

Maybe it's because they discovered Jane Parker Pies... thousands have.

But...you say, "No thanks, there is nothing like a good home-baked pie." We agree...they're great."

But would you believe it if we told you our Jane Parker Pies taste home-baked? Probably not...until you've tried one.

Then you'd discover the crust is short and flaky like your own.

You'd discover the fruit is the kind you'd use... the best...juicy, not stiff with starch.

And if you popped a Jane Parker Pie into the oven and warmed it before serving, you'd discover a pie you'd be proud to call your own.

Are Jane Parker Pies a good reason for shopping A&P? They're one of many.

Found Near Home

Pennsylvania Police Say Teen-Ager Not Abducted

CORRY, Pa. (AP) — State police say they believe Karen Sue Cooney, the teen - age girl who was found after a 26-hour search by hundreds of police and firemen, ran away from home and was not abducted.

"We now believe this is a case of a runaway girl. This is due to some discrepencies," state police investigator Tyco Lange said Tuesday.

Karen, 15, was hospitalized after she was spotted by a helicopter pilot searching the heavily wooded, rocky country near her home outside of Corry.

Officials said Karen, who vanished while hanging clothes Monday morning after her mother heard her scream, was suffering from shock, exposure and a posible nervous condition may have caused her to walk away from home.

Mrs. James P. Cooney was brought to a recreation spot on Leisure Lake, a short distance from the Cooney home, before Karen was taken to Corry Memorial Hospital where she's being held for observation.

"I can tell you she just did not take off and run away," said Mrs. Cooney who spoke to Karen.

"She said she was driven into the swamp with a man with a knife," Mrs. Cooney said. There is a swampy area near the Cooney farm.

Police speculated that Karen spent the night in an abandoned house in the area. Police said the girl told them she hid behind a tree Monday to avoid being spotted by a light plane that had joined the search.

Meanwhile, 19-year-old Edith Anne Mageary who was the object of a search by police and firemen 25 miles to the south of Titusville, was found in a loft of a barn. The barn was located approximately 100 yards from where the five-mile search originated along Pennsylvania 8 south of Titusville.

Police and firemen who found Mrs. Mageary said she was eight - months pregnant and appeared to be suffering from a severe state of mental shock.

Her husband, who works in Youngstown, Ohio, arrived home in the afternoon unaware she was missing. Neighbors reported seeing Mrs. Mageary walking into a woods behind her trailer Tuesday morning.

In Erie, police said Sheila Oldach, 14, signed a statement Tuesday saying her story of being abducted from her home by a man was a hoax. She was picked up by police Monday night as she walked along Interstate 90.

Diplomat Claimed

LONDON (AP) — Sir Alexander Cadogan, 83, career diplomat who was a top wartime adviser to Prime Minister Winston Churchill, died Tuesday. Cadogan was a permanent undersecretary of the British Foreign Office and accompanied Churchill to the summit conferences of World War II. He prepared the first draft of the Atlantic Charter in 1941.

Hippie Group To Construct 'Parsonage'

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Members say they belong to the Anthropodeic Church. Residents say they're "hippies."

But the approximately 40 persons living in a colony on a farm near Harmonsburg seem determined to show natives of this Crawford County area that they're sincere in their religious convictions.

The group has asked for and gotten a building permit from the Crawford County Assessment Office to construct a one-story frame structure that will serve as a parsonage.

The building, to be constructed from used lumber, will be located on Pennsylvania 18, about two miles from their present site on the farm of William Close.

When the group arrived from California in April George Hurd, a spokesman for the group, proclaimed the group was a religious colony and would live on the farm "not unlike an early Christian community."

A Crawford County courthouse official asked Hurd when he applied for the building permit if he was going to be the minister. "We're all ministers," Hurd replied.

Local officials are now concerned that the group may move from the farmhouse to the church site.

The colony attracted many spectators at first. The number of visitors dropped off after one member of the group was hospitalized with infectious hepatitis and the health department issued a warning to stay away. The young man has been released from the hospital and is now back at the camp.

Local officials say they fear a move by the group to the church would start attracting more spectators since it borders a major road.

Last Tuesday Harmonsburg officials called a public meeting and local legislators, Crawford County commissioners and the sheriff were asked to answer questions about the group.

Hurd was also invited to the meeting and answered questions from the 200 people who attended.

Barbershoppers Given Report On Cincinnati Event

A report on international competition was heard during the meeting of the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter Monday night at the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church.

Dean Manning, delegate, reviewed the event held last week in Cincinnati. Some 6,600 attended the Saturday night show.

The Western Continentals of Dallas finished first in competition with 44 quartets. In the contest of 15 choruses, the Pekin Chapter of Illinois placed first. The area Buckeye Chapter finished eighth.

Attending along with Manning and his wife were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kuhn and Mr. and Mrs. George Wise of Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. George Kemerer of Carrollton.

Ike Shumaker, president, announced tentative plans to sing with the Sweet Adelines Aug. 4 at Thompson Park.

Glenn Woods directed the singing.

The next session will be Monday at the church.

One-Lane Span Falls When Hit By Truck

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP) —A one-lane bridge which runs over Stoney Creek in the village of Kanter collapsed in the middle when a tractor - trailer ran into a corner support.

The driver, Warren White, 44, of Westmont, N.J., was taken to Somerset Hospital with possible back and skull injuries Tuesday.

The approximately 100 foot bridge will probably be closed for repairs for six months.

Action Eyed On Drainage In Industry

The Ohioview Circle Sanitation Association and the Avoncrest Sanitation Association, both in Industry, have been notified by the Pennsylvania Department of Health they will have to correct drainage of waste materials into Six - Mile Run, a creek running through the Ohioview Golf Course property.

Each of the associations operates septic tank systems in the area.

William Ralph, chairman of the Industry Council community planning committee, has advised Council representatives of the associations have met with officials of the health department to investigate the problem, and now will check with the Beaver County Zoning and Planning Commission to determine what progress, if any, has been made on plans for a countywide sewage disposal system.

James Muns, roads chairman, reported last week to Council workmen have repaired a drain in front of the John Hineman III property on Willowbrook Dr. West, and will complete grading and oiling of Wabash Rd. to the Shell Chemical Co. this week.

Resurfacing of five borough streets is slated to begin in about one month. State funds will be used for the work.

Councilman Thomas Hanner reported he attended the state boroughs convention at Philadelphia June 23-25. He presented Council a copy of resolutions adopted at the convention.

Homer Paul, president, announced the Planning Commission held a public hearing on the new zoning map and ordinance in June. Council will meet in executive session this week to go over the map and ordinance before it is presented for adoption in a public council session.

General bills totaling $4,563 were paid. Council will meet Aug. 7 at 7:30 p. m.

Pennsylvania Police Say Teen-Ager Not Abducted

CORRY, Pa. (AP) — State police say they believe Karen Sue Cooney, the teen - age girl who was found after a 26-hour search by hundreds of police and firemen, ran away from home and was not abducted.

"We now believe this is a case of a runaway girl. This is due to some discrepencies," state police investigator Tyco Lange said Tuesday.

Karen, 15, was hospitalized after she was spotted by a helicopter pilot searching the heavily wooded, rocky country near her home outside of Corry.

Officials said Karen, who vanished while hanging clothes Monday morning after her mother heard her scream, was suffering from shock, exposure and a posible nervous condidition may have caused her to walk away from home.

Mrs. James P. Cooney was brought to a recreation spot on Leisure Lake, a short distance from the Cooney home, before Karen was taken to Corry Memorial Hospital where she's being held for observation.

"I can tell you she just did not take off and run away," said Mrs. Cooney who spoke to Karen.

"She said she was driven into the swamp with a man with a knife," Mrs. Cooney said. There is a swampy area near the Cooney farm.

Police speculated that Karen spent the night in an abandoned house in the area. Police said the girl told them she hid behind a tree Monday to avoid being spotted by a light plane that had joined the search.

Meanwhile, 19-year-old Edith Anne Mageary who was the object of a search by police and firemen 25 miles to the south of Titusville, was found in a loft of a barn. The barn was located approximately 100 yards from where the five-mile search originated along Pennsylvania 8 south of Titusville.

Police and firemen who found Mrs. Mageary said she was eight - months pregnant and appeared to be suffering from a severe state of mental shock.

Her husband, who works in Youngstown, Ohio, arrived home in the afternoon unaware she was missing. Neighbors reported seeing Mrs. Mageary walking into a woods behind her trailer Tuesday morning.

In Erie, police said Sheila Oldach, 14, signed a statement Tuesday saying her story of being abducted from her home by a man was a hoax. She was picked up by police Monday night as she walked along Interstate 90.

Diplomat Claimed

LONDON (AP) — Sir Alexander Cadogan, 83, career diplomat who was a top wartime adviser to Prime Minister Winston Churchill, died Tuesday. Cadogan was a permanent undersecretary of the British Foreign Office and accompanied Churchill to the summit conferences of World War II. He prepared the first draft of the Atlantic Charter in 1941.

Hippie Group To Construct 'Parsonage'

But the approximately 40 persons living in a colony on a farm near Harmonsburg seem determined to show natives of this Crawford County area that they're sincere in their religious convictions.

The group has asked for and gotten a building permit from the Crawford County Assessment Office to construct a one-story frame structure that will serve as a parsonage.

The building, to be constructed from used lumber, will be located on Pennsylvania 18, about two miles from their present site on the farm of William Close.

When the group arrived from California in April George Hurd, a spokesman for the group, proclaimed the group was a religious colony and would live on the farm "not unlike an early Christian community."

A Crawford County courthouse official asked Hurd when he applied for the building permit if he was going to be the minister. "We're all ministers," Hurd replied.

Local officials are now concerned that the group may move from the farmhouse to the church site.

The colony attracted many spectators at first. The number of visitors dropped off after one member of the group was hospitalized with infectious hepatitis and the health department issued a warning to stay away. The young man has been released from the hospital and is now back at the camp.

Local officials say they fear a move by the group to the church would start attracting more spectators since it borders a major road.

Last Tuesday Harmonsburg officials called a public meeting and local legislators, Crawford County commissioners and the sheriff were asked to answer questions about the group.

Hurd was also invited to the meeting and answered questions from the 200 people who attended.

One-Lane Span Falls When Hit By Truck

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP) —A one-lane bridge which runs over Stoney Creek in the village of Kanter collapsed in the middle when a tractor - trailer ran into a corner support.

The driver, Warren White, 44, of Westmont, N.J., was taken to Somerset Hospital with possible back and skull injuries Tuesday.

The approximately 100 foot bridge will probably be closed for repairs for six months.

Action Eyed On Drainage In Industry

The Ohioview Circle Sanitation Association and the Avoncrest Sanitation Association, both in Industry, have been notified by the Pennsylvania Department of Health they will have to correct drainage of waste materials into Six - Mile Run, a creek running through the Ohioview Golf Course property.

Each of the associations operates septic tank systems in the area.

William Ralph, chairman of the Industry Council community planning committee, has advised Council representatives of the associations have met with officials of the health department to investigate the problem, and now will check with the Beaver County Zoning and Planning Commission to determine what progress, if any, has been made on plans for a countywide sewage disposal system.

James Muns, roads chairman, reported last week to Council workmen have repaired a drain in front of the John Hineman III property on Willowbrook Dr. West, and will complete grading and oiling of Wabash Rd. to the Shell Chemical Co. this week.

Resurfacing of five borough streets is slated to begin in about one month. State funds will be used for the work.

Councilman Thomas Hanner reported he attended the state boroughs convention at Philadelphia June 23-25. He presented Council a copy of resolutions adopted at the convention.

Homer Paul, president, announced the Planning Commission held a public hearing on the new zoning map and ordinance in June. Council will meet in executive session this week to go over the map and ordinance before it is presented for adoption in a public council session.

General bills totaling $4,563 were paid. Council will meet Aug. 7 at 7:30 p. m.

Fire Captain Dies Battling Home Blaze

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)— A Hamilton fire captain died and another fireman was overcome about midnight in a fire at a dwelling here.

Capt. Ralph Thomas, a 25-year-veteran of the fire department who would have been 54 years old today, and fireman Donald Hon, 34, collapsed after having been in the burning house for a few minutes.

Thomas was the first Hamilton fireman to die in the line of duty since three died in a courthouse fire in 1912.

Hon was reported in good condition today.

There was no immediate estimate as to the damage but firemen said it would be "moderate to heavy."

Thomas and Hon had gone into the house to arouse occupants but, as it developed, the residents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mans, were away from home at the time.

The fire was believed to have started in a bedroom closet and authorities said they believed Thomas and Hon were overcome by fumes from plastic bags burning in the closet. They collapsed on the sidewalk after coming out of the burning house.

The origin of the fire was not determined.

Legislators Seeking Lake Pollution Ban

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation designed to prohibit the Army engineers from dumping, or approving the dumping, of waste materials from dredging into Lake Michigan or other navigable waterways was proposed today.

Under the measure, sponsored by Reps. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., Thomas L. Ashley, D-Ohio, and other Great Lakes House members, the Army engineers would be banned from dumping unless the secretary of the interior determined that to do so would not result in pollution of lakes and streams.

Scientists Say

More Magnetic Storms Are Expected This Week

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Magnetic storms, triggered by the biggest, brightest solar flare in more than two years, produced an unscheduled view of the Northern Lights and again fouled up shortwave radio communications around the world Tuesday night, goverment scientists said.

More of the same appears to be in the offing.

Forecaster Karl Kildahl at the U.S. Space Disturbance Forecast Center said there is a good chance of similar phenomena Wednesday night or Thursday as a result of another major, though smaller, flare Tuesday.

And, he said, data analysis showed a 65 per cent chance of a third large-magnitude flare Wendesday, when the effect of the first was expected to subside.

Residents of the northern United States should have been able to see a reddish glow on the northern horizon Tuesday night—"like little red fingers that go up into the sky and fall down again," Kildahl said.

The shortwave blackout Tuesday was less troublesome than the initial magnetic storm immediately after the flare was recorded at 1:03 p.m. EDT Monday.

Contestant Says She Likes Money

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The beauty contest business is just a better job than working as a bank cashier for $20 a week.

That's the reason Jennifer Summers of England gives for entering the contest that gave her a national title and a shot at the crown of Miss Universe 1968. Jennifer is a former cashier who earned seven pounds and 10 shillings weekly at her bank job.

She dislikes most getting up at 6 a.m. during the pageant week for endless rehearsals and interviews before Saturday night's selection of a winner.

But she does it because the winner of the Miss Universe title gets $10,000 in cash, a $10,000 service contract, a $7,500 fur coat and other prizes in addition to a world tour.

By 1903, pretty girls were standard calendar ornaments.

Contestant Says She Likes Money

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The beauty contest business is just a better job than working as a bank cashier for $20 a week.

That's the reason Jennifer Summers of England gives for entering the contest that gave her a national title and a shot at the crown of Miss Universe 1968. Jennifer is a former cashier who earned seven pounds and 10 shillings weekly at her bank job.

She dislikes most getting up at 6 a.m. during the pageant week for endless rehearsals and interviews before Saturday night's selection of a winner.

But she does it because the winner of the Miss Universe title gets $10,000 in cash, a $10,000 service contract, a $7,500 fur coat and other prizes in addition to a world tour.

By 1903, pretty girls were standard calendar ornaments.

Fire Captain Dies Battling Home Blaze

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)— A Hamilton fire captain died and another fireman was overcome about midnight in a fire at a dwelling here.

Capt. Ralph Thomas, a 25-year-veteran of the fire department who would have been 54 years old today, and fireman Donald Hon, 34, collapsed after having been in the burning house for a few minutes.

Thomas was the first Hamilton fireman to die in the line of duty since three died in a courthouse fire in 1912.

Hon was reported in good condition today.

There was no immediate estimate as to the damage but firemen said it would be "moderate to heavy."

Thomas and Hon had gone into the house to arouse occupants but, as it developed, the residents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mans, were away from home at the time.

The fire was believed to have started in a bedroom closet and authorities said they believed Thomas and Hon were overcome by fumes from plastic bags burning in the closet. They collapsed on the sidewalk after coming out of the burning house.

The origin of the fire was not determined.

Legislators Seeking Lake Pollution Ban

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation designed to prohibit the Army engineers from dumping, or approving the dumping, of waste materials from dredging into Lake Michigan or other navigable waterways was proposed today.

Under the measure, sponsored by Reps. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., Thomas L. Ashley, D-Ohio, and other Great Lakes House members, the Army engineers would be banned from dumping unless the secretary of the interior determined that to do so would not result in pollution of lakes and streams.

Scientists Say

More Magnetic Storms Are Expected This Week

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Magnetic storms, triggered by the biggest, brightest solar flare in more than two years, produced an unscheduled view of the Northern Lights and again fouled up shortwave radio communications around the world Tuesday night, goverment scientists said.

More of the same appears to be in the offing.

Forecaster Karl Kildahl at the U.S. Space Disturbance Forecast Center said there is a good chance of similar phenomena Wednesday night or Thursday as a result of another major, though smaller, flare Tuesday.

And, he said, data analysis showed a 65 per cent chance of a third large-magnitude flare Wendesday, when the effect of the first was expected to subside.

Residents of the northern United States should have been able to see a reddish glow on the northern horizon Tuesday night—"like little red fingers that go up into the sky and fall down again," Kildahl said.

The shortwave blackout Tuesday was less troublesome than the initial magnetic storm immediately after the flare was recorded at 1:03 p.m. EDT Monday.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ED GREEN

Days by the sea, the sun drenched shore
Watching the tide go out once more
Days warm and restful, nights bright and gay
Summers with you, I will remember always.

I MISS YOU.

IN memory of Lucy Kidder who passed away 2 years ago July 8, 1966. Like falling leaves the years slip by, But loving memories never die. Memories are like threads of gold, Never tarnish or grow old. To some she may be forgotten, To others part of the past, But to us who loved and lost her, Her memory will always last. Sadly missed by husband, Spencer Kidder, children and grandchildren.

WILLIAM L. CORNELL—In loving remembrance of our dear son, who passed away nine years ago July 10, 1959. Nine years have passed, our hearts still sore. As time goes on we miss you more; Your cheerful voice, your welcome face. No one can fill your vacant place. SADLY MISSED BY MOTHER, FATHER, AND LOVED ONES.

3 CARD OF THANKS

WE wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to all the kind friends, relatives, and neighbors whose expressions of sympathy meant so much to us upon the death of our beloved wife and mother, Virginia Howell. Special thanks to employees of Homer Laughlin China Co., the Arner Funeral Home, Rev. Allen S. Fields of the New Cumberland Christian Church.
James Howell and Children

WE wish to thank the friends and neighbors for their kindnesses during the death of Larry Gillis. Special thanks to Dawson Funeral Home and Rev. Traylor.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ED GREEN

Days by the sea, the sun drenched shore
Watching the tide go out once more
Days warm and restful, nights bright and gay
Summers with you, I will remember always.

I MISS YOU.

IN memory of Lucy Kidder who passed away 2 years ago July 8, 1966. Like falling leaves the years slip by, But loving memories never die. Memories are like threads of gold, Never tarnish or grow old. To some she may be forgotten, To others part of the past. But to us who loved and lost her, Her memory will always last. Sadly missed by husband, Spencer Kidder, children and grandchildren.

WILLIAM L. CORNELL—In loving remembrance of our dear son, who passed away nine years ago July 10, 1959. Nine years have passed, our hearts still sore. As time goes on we miss you more; Your cheerful voice, your welcome face. No one can fill your vacant place. SADLY MISSED BY MOTHER, FATHER, AND LOVED ONES.

3 CARD OF THANKS

WE wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to all the kind friends, relatives, and neighbors whose expressions of sympathy meant so much to us upon the death of our beloved wife and mother, Virginia Howell. Special thanks to employes of Homer Laughlin China Co., the Arner Funeral Home, Rev. Allen S. Fields of the New Cumberland Christian Church.
James Howell and Children

WE wish to thank the friends and neighbors for their kindnesses during the death of Larry Gillis. Special thanks to Dawson Funeral Home and Rev. Traylor.

It makes you think twice at $10,500.

Junior Editors Quiz on CARD GAMES

QUESTION: Who first used playing cards?

* * * *

ANSWER: It is thought that cavemen used knuckle bones to roll as a kind of dice; dice themselves appeared very early in history's record (upper left). Some experts say cards originated in India around 600 A.D. Others think they were first used in China as a development of dice, since, like dice, cards are games of chance. The Chinese had invented printing from wooden blocks, and so they printed crude cards with different values — often called sheet dice. The one we show is said by some to be the oldest card. Cards were probably introduced into Europe by the returning Crusaders. The Eastern cards had numbers, but picture cards called tarots appeared in Italy. Soon, tarots and numbers were combined in the same deck. The development of printing from wood blocks spread cards all over Europe. We show the quaint appearance of such an early picture card. During the 1500's, the French originated the suits and the symbols for them. In French, carreau had meant square, but the English mistranslated this into diamond and so it has remained.

A. — Add a tablespoon of milk and two or three tablespoons of corn syrup, and beat at fifteen-minute speed in your electric mixer until smooth. Pour immediately.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are signs interest rates on home loans are leveling off at their record spring peak and the experts cautiously look for better conditions for the home buyer by the end of the year.

The National Association of Home Builders said Tuesday its survey indicates a leveling off at the average 7.1 per cent in June. Government figures for June won't be available for several more weeks.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon denies federalized troops were prohibited during the April riots in Washington and Baltimore from using their rifles to defend themselves.

The reply came Tuesday to queries about the complaint of a former National Guard commander, Maj. Gen. A. A. Sproul that troops were ordered not to load their weapons or "even use their rifles as clubs to protect themselves or stop looting."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department says it is not giving away free buffalo, contrary to the idea some people are getting from a booklet that tells how to get all sorts of things for nothing.

The department also said Tuesday it is not giving away copies of the booklet—compiled by a New York organization calling itself the Yippies, or Youth International Party—as some callers believe.

As for the buffalo, a spokesman said surplus buffalo may be donated to tax supported agencies but not to anyone else.

Capital Footnotes

Manufacture or sale of synthetic marijuana — tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) — would become subject to a maximum one-year prison sentence and $1,000 fine under a proposed order published Tuesday by the Justice Department. Public comment will be accepted for 30 days and the order is to become effective 30 days after that.

An Army review board has cut six months off the prison sentence handed down against Pvt. Ronald Lockman of Philadelphia on conviction of balking at going to Vietnam. The two and a half year sentence imposed by a court martial at the Presidio in San Francisco was reduced to two years.

Capital Quote

"The consequences would be nuclear anarchy, and the energy designed to light the world could plunge it into darkness." —President Johnson, in message urging Senate approval of nuclear nonproliferation treaty, saying peaceful nuclear development must not be allowed to result in spread of weapons.

Federal Government Leases Camp Perry

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The federal government holds a $50,000-a-year lease on Ohio's Camp Perry for National Rifle Association matches, Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe disclosed Tuesday.

Saxbe was replying to a letter he received from U.S. Rep. Charles A. Vanik, Cleveland Democrat, who protested what he called "free and exclusive use of a portion of Camp Perry, a state-owned facility" for the matches this summer.

Saxbe said that as far as he knew the federal government leases the property solely for the use by the National Rifle Association. He said he does not know whether the NRA inturn makes payment to the U.S. government.

Killed In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marine Lance Cpl. Richard J. Geglelski of Cleveland has been killed in action in Vietnam, the Defense Department reports.

Marine Pfc. Harry W. Bass Jr. of Columbus has died of wounds received in combat.

Post Delegates Head For 3-Day Columbus Rally

They were named during Monday night's meeting.

McKinney, post trustee, discussed proposed renovations to the post parking lot. Robert Nutter, also a trustee, reported on repairs to the air-conditioning.

James Wallover, service officer, reported on veterans' rights to obtain a college education. He also reported for the audit committee, of which he is chairman.

The Auxiliary was given permission to use the post home Aug. 3 for a banquet for Metsch Refractories.

Paul Gill, post athletic director, said the post will furnish dinner for the baseball team at the home following a game with Leetonia Thursday.

Forty attended. Donald Hancock, first vice commander, sided. The next meeting will be Monday at 8 p. m.

Bill Midkiff resigned as Manzanola town marshal after nearly two years. He told a reporter, "It just isn't worth the long hours and poor pay."
